Coal Tipple Destroyed

Brush Fire Sweeps 100 Acres

Flames roared into the sky and firemen from three companies braved dense smoke and flying sparks in quelling this brush fire that burned off an estimated 100 acres and destroyed a coal tipple Thursday in the area of the Chris Shinke farm near Shippingport.

The blaze began about 9 a.m. and firemen from Shippingport, Raccoon Township and Hookstown battled it until 6:30 last night before it was pronounced out.

Shippingport and Raccoon sent two trucks each and Hookstown, called in about 1:25, provided a truck and crew. Firemen were hampered because many of the volunteers were at work. Hookstown started with 10 men and had 20 on the firelines by the time the last embers were doused.

Flames reached 100 feet at times and houses in the vicinity were threatened.

Hookstown firemen had been called earlier in the day to the John Belan farm on Reed School Rd. in Greene Township. They made the run to the grass fire about 11:50 a.m. and returned to the station at 1 in time to be called to the Shippingport blaze.

Firemen were aided at the Belan fire by Joe Krizan, who was logging in the area and used his bulldozer to make a firebreak.

Some 100 firemen from four volunteer fire departments battled another brush fire for more than nine hours Thursday between Industry and Vanport.

More Talks Due Today On Berlin

Rusk, Soviet Aide To Confer Despite Anger On A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin scheduled a new meeting on Berlin today in spite of the angry dispute between Moscow and Washington over U.S. resumption of nuclear atmospheric tests.

As the two prepared to meet, there was speculation that the second test in the new U.S. series might be touched off today or Saturday. The first was fired on Wednesday over the Pacific testing area.

Soviet readiness to continue the search for a Berlin settlement plus Soviet failure to walk out of the Geneva disarmament conference was interpreted here as evidence that Premier Khrushchev has decided to limit Russian reaction to the new U.S. tests to a propaganda fight. U.S. officials found this encouraging for the future course of U.S.-Soviet relations.

One of the limiting factors in Khrushchev's decision, it was said, may also be his own plans, assumed here, for the Soviet Union to hold new nuclear tests in the near future.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Thursday night the U.S. decision to test again in the atmosphere meant the arms race had been resumed. But he urged continuation of efforts to end nuclear testing to achieve a peace suitable to the "dignity of civilized men."

In an address to a dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, Macmillan said: "We must not abandon our efforts in this or any other sphere where we can find the possibility of some agreement between East and West to their mutual advantage and to that of the whole world."

Protest Nuclear Tests

2,000 Japs Try To Storm U. S. Center In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) —A crowd of about 2,000 screaming Japanese students tried to storm the U.S. Embassy today in protest against American nuclear testing.

Police drove them off, and about 500 staged a sitdown demonstration in front of the embassy tonight. Singing the Communist Internationale and shouting "Kennedy down with the bomb!" they squatted with their arms interlocked about 120 feet from the high wall around the embassy compound.

The police wheeled up five armored trucks and began disentangling the students. After an hour of scuffling, the police moved the students 300 yards down the street. The demonstrators conceded defeat and marched off to a downtown park for speeches and more noisemaking.

Earlier the students made repeated charges from two directions at the stone and iron fence around the embassy compound. About 100 got as far as the gates before the police beat them back in kicking, shoving brawls.

It was the third day of demonstrations against American nuclear testing. The leftist Zengakuren Student Federation has said it would demonstrate every day as long as the tests continue.

Several embassy officers spent most of the day receiving protests from small groups of peaceful demonstrators. U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer was away from Tokyo on a speechmaking tour. One group allowed to enter consisted of eight citizens of Hiroshima, target of the first 1945 American atomic bombing. The eight included a woman with a child in her arms.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Head List

U.S. Claims Action Had No Connection With Recent Issue

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted the United States Steel Corp. and the Bethlehem Steel Co. on charges of violating the antitrust laws by conspiring to fix prices and rig bids.

The indictment made the same charges against two other steel companies, five company executives and a trade association.

The stock market reacted quickly to the indictment Thursday. United States Steel and Bethlehem — the nation's two largest steel producers — led the steel issues and other stocks on the market lower.

Government officials said the indictment had no connection with the steel industry controversy that started earlier this month when U.S. Steel and some other producers announced a price increase of $6 a ton. The increase, denounced by President Kennedy, was rescinded.

The alleged conspiracy concerned the sale of forged steel to the Army and the Navy, electrical companies and others.

The sales involved were estimated at $100 million a year.

Leslie B. Worthington, president of U.S. Steel, issued a statement that read in part:

"We intend to contest in the courts the charges contained in this indictment and we ask that the public withhold judgment until the case has been decided in court."

A Bethlehem spokesman said in a statement that the company "has long had a policy of strict compliance with all laws applicable to its operations, and we would be greatly concerned if any Bethlehem employes had been violating the law."

In addition to the Big Two of the industry, the companies indicted were the Erie Forge Steel Corp. of Erie, Pa., and the Midvale-Heppenstall Co., of Philadelphia. The trade association named was the Open Die Forging Institute Inc., of New York City.

The individual defendants, if convicted on the conspiracy charge, could be sentenced to a maximum one year in prison and fined $50,000 each. The corporate defendants, if convicted, could be fined $50,000 each.

The indictment charged that bids and prices were synchronized through the trade association, serving as a clearing house.

It says the conspiracy began in 1948 and continued until 1961—long before the recent price controversy erupted.

Anti-guerrilla Program Set By Air Force

'Jungle Gym' Plan Would Rain Bombs On Viet Nam Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force was reported today to have developed a highly secret antiguerrilla program for Communist-threatened South Viet Nam under the code name of "Jungle Gym."

Few details are known, but sources said one part of the plan was to use transport planes to rain concussion bombs on the Communist-infested South Vietnamese jungle.

The aim would be to burst the eardrums of Communist guerrillas, crippling them for further combat and demoralizing those who were not injured. Some probably would be killed by fragments, but that would not be the main purpose.

The planes would be loaded with hundreds of the charges on special racks, the sources said. Roaring over areas known to be infested with the Communists, the planes would pattern-bomb the jungles in which the Red Viet Cong operates.

British Chief Calls On West To Be Firm

Premier Addresses Publishers; Will Talk With Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan urges the West "to be firm but patient; never to yield and never to give ground; but never to take provocative action ourselves."

Calling President Kennedy's decision to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere "a tragedy," he says "the world must realize the responsibility for the tragedy is not Kennedy's. It is Khrushchev's."

Macmillan says the test resumption is tragic because "it means the nuclear arms race is again in full spate."

The British Conservative party leader discussed the present state of the world and looked into the future Thursday night in addressing 1,800 persons at the annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The dinner ended the city's annual press week events.

Macmillan goes to Washington today for formal discussions with President Kennedy Saturday.

Midland Hits Air Pollution By Crucible

Union Spokesman Complains; Council Hints Court Action

The Midland Steelworkers Union and Borough Council Thursday night joined forces after complaints of air pollution by the Crucible Steel Co.'s plant and agreed to contact the firm to abate the nuisance, hinting a possible court suit against the company, if necessary.

James Mullen, international union staff representative at Midland, spoke from the audience at Council's meeting concerning the air pollution.

He said he is "having trouble dong any business at his office at the union hall because of people calling in complaints." He said he understands that the borough can not legislate against air pollution.

He added the union believes that the situation is a health hazard and suggests that residents sign a petition and sent it to the governor. He reported he has talked to the company about the condition but it "keeps putting it off to the future."

Last year, councilmen became concerned about the pollution when it learned Crucible was adding an oxygen process which creates a red dust.

Representatives attended a Council meeting and said the com-

Joint U. S.-Soviet Space Hopes Rise

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The successful launchings of a U.S.-British satellite and an American-Japanese probe have given rise to hopes the United States and Russia will eventually combine their great resources for an all-out assault on space.

An American Thor-Delta rocket Thursday blasted a packet of British experiments into orbit as the world's first international satellite. Its purpose is to study the ionosphere and cosmic radiation. Earlier, at Wallops Island, Va., a U.S. Nike-Cajun sounding rocket boosted a small bundle of Japanese instruments on a brief 75-mile-high trip to take readings in the upper atmosphere.

The launchings occurred during a day of crowded space activity. Other developments:

1. The U.S. Ranger 4 spacecraft crash-landed on the dark side of the moon after a 64-hour, 231,486-mile journey that started Monday at Cape Canaveral. Although Ranger 4 failed to carry out a number of scientific experiments because of a faulty electronic device, officials said it demonstrated the United States had the guidance capability to send a vehicle to the moon.

2. Space scientists disclosed plans to send a similar rocket toward Venus this summer. It's called Mariner and will be boosted by the same Agena B combination that aimed Ranger.

3. The Russians announced the launching of their fourth scientific satellite in six weeks. The Soviets said the vehicle, Cosmos 4, carried radiation-measuring and other scientific gear. There was some speculation the recent wave of Russian satellites have been sent up to gather data on America's series of nuclear tests in the Pacific.

4. Two secret satellites were launched by the Air Force at Point Arguello, Calif. One employed a Blue Scout booster, the other an Atlas-Agena B, which has been used primarily for Midas and Samos spy satellites.

Boy To Be Charged In Wellsville Blaze

Wellsville Fire Chief Robert Lewis said today he will charge a 16-year-old boy with deliberately starting a grass fire that endangered a home on Buckeye Ave. The flames were quelled by 11 firemen at 2:30.

Lewis also quelled another small fire on 18th St. Heights Thursday afternoon at 1:20 and investigated its cause.

The department was called to 1622 Clark Ave., this morning at 8:50 when a clogged chimney caused smoke to fill the home of Don Collins.

Man Receives Prison Term In 3 Holdups

Change Of Plea To Guilty Made While Waiting For Trial

LISBON — James Booher, 25, of Poland was sentenced to 10-25 years on three counts of armed robbery Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp. His trial had been scheduled for Monday.

Booher pleaded guilty to the armed robbery of Ferguson's Market on Route 7, northeast of Columbiana, March 22; the Casa Loma Tavern on Route 14, west of Unity, March 3, and the Johnson Clothing Store in East Palestine on March 8. The three robberies netted Booher $375.

Booher had pleaded innocent at arraignment but changed his plea yesterday about 3:30 p. m. Judge Sharp said he could serve the sentences concurrently, which makes his release possible in about 8½ years, with good behavior.

Booher will be turned over to Mahoning County, which has warrants on him for armed robbery and rape and these charges will be disposed of before he is taken to the penitentiary.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said he will now begin with the second degree manslaughter trial of Allen Rice, 18, of Wellsville R. D. 1 on Monday. Rice was indicted in the traffic death of Eugene Delposin, 17-year-old high school senior at Wellsville, when Rice's car struck a pole Dec. 29 on Clark Ave., Wellsville.

Time Change Slated; Turn Clocks Ahead

Daylight Saving Time will begin Sunday and Tri-State area residents were reminded to turn clocks ahead an hour to conform to the switch from Eastern Standard Time.

The time change is slated officially Sunday at 2 a.m. but the custom is to turn up the clocks before retiring Saturday night. The hour of lost sleep will be regained in the fall.

The majority of the communities going to the fast "Summer" time will return to EST Oct. 28; some will make the change Sept. 30.

About two thirds of Ohio goes to the fast time; some 16 Eastern states will turn up their clocks and 606 communities in Pennsylvania make the switch.

The local area making the time change extends down the Ohio Valley to Bellaire on the Ohio side and below Moundsville on the West Virginia side. All Ohio Valley communities into Western Pennsylvania join in the change.

All area school districts, including Beaver Local, will go to fast time. Some return to EST early in the fall before the regular time change because of fog conditions that create a hazard for school bus operations.

Discussion Monday Night To List Needs Of Schools

A study of school finances, facilities and program along with an assessment of its potential needs will be held at a public meeting sponsored by the Board of Education Monday at 7:30 p. m. at Westgate School library.

Any resident of the school district is invited to participate in the discussion, C. Walter Ashbaugh, board president, said. Letters have been mailed to 75 members of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools urging them to attend.

The board is conducting the program entitled Ohio Project School Finances in co-operation with the Ohio School Boards Association. Each school board in the state has been requested to conduct a similar conference with laymen.

Compilation of the local needs will be made from which a comprehensive survey of educational needs in the state will be drawn. Specific recommendations to the State Legislature will be submitted to association delegates for approval at the annual meeting in November.

Two specific items will be among those considered at Monday's meeting.

The major problem which will be discussed concerns the fate of the present high school. The board has informally discussed the problem of whether to erect an en-

There are a number of men, women and children in the Tri-State district, afflicted with the after-effects of polio, who would have paid any amount of money to have avoided the disease.

For 50 cents and about five minutes time, any adult or youngster may obtain immunization against polio Type III at mass clinics to be held Saturday from 1 to 7 p. m.

The Columbiana County Medical Society today urged those who have not yet received the Sabin oral vaccine to visit the clinics at Westgate and East Junior High School, Calcutta fire station or McDonald School at Wellsville.

Council Takes Action

Midland To Urge Repair Of Walks

Midland Council Thursday night instructed the borough engineer to notify residents who have failed to install or repair sidewalks that they are violating an ordinance enacted several years ago.

The engineer, R. E. Steebner, will send registered letters to the property owners, urging immediate action. Councilman Joseph D'Alesio brought up the sidewalk problem, suggesting the borough do the work and bill residents as in other cities, unless they comply.

—:—

MANY RESIDENTS have complied, but others have not, although Council each year requests maintenance of the walks.

Concerning off-street parking, Councilman Lester Trainer reported that his committee, specially appointed at Council's last meeting, is considering parking lot sites on Ohio Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts. and on Midland Ave. in the west end.

He said his committee is studying the cost involved and making a study of the sites, of trafffic and of school children in the areas, before making a recommendation.

Council adopted a resolution, going on record as favoring expansion of the Carnegie Public Library facilities. William McInerney, president of the library's Board of Trustees, attended the meeting and spoke of the need at the library for a room for senior citizens for a place to relax. He said the library has other accommodations for school children and other adults.

THE RESOLUTION asks that Council help in making application for any available federal funds to meet the cost of such expansion. He said the Carnegie Foundation does not now give money to the libraries for construction.

Steebner reported a request of the Duquesne Light Co. to change two steel poles to wood in order that a transformer may be installed to handle the voltage for the new 105 mercury-type lights being installed now on Midland Ave.

The request was given to the street committee for study and action. Council believes the wooden poles would not look proper with the steel poles along the main street.

Council approved a request for Steebner to advertise for bids for the construction of a storage building next to the Borough Garage. Bids must be in by the meeting May 24.

Steebner said the foundation has been erected but further work can not be done unless bids are asked. The cost is estimated at $5,500 to $6,000.

COUNCIL SET May 18 as the deadline for applications for swimming pool personnel. Needed are a manager, a cashier, five life guards, four female checkroom attendants, three male checkroom attendants, an instructor and life guard and a woman checkroom supervisor and swimming pool attendant.

Steebner reported that a contract was awarded Monday to the Davey Tree Expert Co. of Pittsburgh for spraying about 150 American elms at a cost of $1.90 a tree. The firm had a crew in Thursday for spraying. Steebner said the firm's bid was the lowest of three. Others were Paul Muschweck of Industry and the Stanley Tree Service of Beaver Falls.

Muschweck was given a contract for the removal of stumps, Steebner said.

Skipper Van Lehn, operator of the new Sunoco station going in at Midland Ave. and 6th St., asked Council to remove a parking meter on the northeast side of 6th St. to allow for safe entry and exit to the station.

—:—

ON A MOTION by Councilman Raymond Presutti, the request was turned over to the street committee with the power to act.

Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor, reported the Crucible Steel Co. has requested a permit to dump material from furnaces in an area north of the Rotary Club pavilion on Murphy Hill Rd.

Masters said the area is zoned for private residences and dumping would be a violation unless the borough granted permission by rezoning.

—:—

HE SAID the request requires more study, that a wall in the area would be needed. He said trucks must pass the borough swimming pool on the way to the proposed dumping area. He said calls have already been received by residents concerned. Council should require more information from the company on how it will handle the dumping. Council tabled the request for further study.

Masters also reported that Crucible has sent leases to the borough for a section of company land near the emergency hospital area near 6th St. for a parking lot to accommodate 35 cars.

A letter was read by Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, from the Midland Savings & Loan Co. in appreciation of service of police and firemen when its building was damaged by the recent Shippingport mine explosion.

Members of Council were invited to attend the first annual meeting of the Beaver County Red Cross chapter May 17 at 6:30 at the First Presbyterian Church in Beaver.

pany was concerned. They cited progress of the company in the past to make Midland a clean town. The company said then that Midland was already one of the cleanest steel towns. The equipment to eliminate the pollution was cited as being too expensive.

The Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. was also contacted by Council about its use of oxygen which aids in the making of steel.

Mullen said last X-rays taken in the borough showed some 800 or 900 cases of active or inactive tuberculosis and said he does not know the relationship with the air pollution.

Mullen asked Council to co-operate with the union to talk with the company as soon as possible. He said the union represents 98 per cent of the residents and "we are flirting with the idea of suing".

"Day by day, the condition is becoming more serious," he said.

He said Pittsburgh has done a "wonderful job of smoke elimination and it didn't bankrupt the companies." "Women saved enough on soap to have paid for installation of air pollution equipment," he added.

"The company has enough money; it is not a question of money but of the company being interested. The company is not doing the job it can do and the union will go as far as it needs to alleviate the condition, even if it means suing," he declared.

At the request of Mullen that Council form a committee to work with the union on the problem, William Vinovich, Council president, appointed Councilmen Lester Trainer, Raymond Presutti and William Shovlin.

Councilman Joseph D'Alesio, who is also president of Local 1212 at Crucible's Midland Works, the largest local at Crucible and representing about 6,000 workers, added to the discussion.

He said that in the beginning, when smoke control was mentioned, he knew what was going to happen by the experiences of other locals in other towns with blast furnaces. He said he made clear to Council then that the union would do something about it, that the union is powerful enough.

He said the union is not against business or taking foreceful action against business but the action is humanitarian. He said residents can not walk down the street without being affected. Children breathe the dust and even pick particles out of their eyes. Sick people gasp for air. He said "the health of one child is worth more than any blast furnace in town."

He said he agreed with Mullen that Council and the union form committees to meet with Crucible heads. "If talks do not get anywhere, then "my legislative committee will go to the governor's office," he said.

Mayor Eli Corak said it was enlightening to see Council and the union join to work on the air pollution problem. He cited Council's efforts in the past, asking the state for more strict regulations.

City Man Given Burglary Term

An East Liverpool man was given a 1-15-year term in the Mansfield Reformatory for burglary and a Salem man received five years probation for embezzlement in hearings before Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon Thursday.

Daniel S. Germanovich, 21, of 426 Sugar St., was sentenced after he was cited for probation violation by Richard Rose, chief adult probation officer.

Germanovich is one of the three East Liverpool men who pleaded guilty to burglary of the Slayton service station and store on Route 45, some three miles south of Salem, April 13, 1960. They were caught by Ravenna police. He was given probation Sept. 9, 1960, but violated most of the terms, court was told.

Glenn Ritchie, who received probation, was found guilty by a jury in the September court term of 1961. He embezzled $3,175 from the Eagles Lodge in Salem while serving as secretary in 1958-60.

Tumble Hurts Erie St. Child

An 8-year-old city boy, hurt in a fall at play, was admitted Thursday night to City Hospital. Six area residents were treated yesterday after separate mishaps and released.

Michael Tyson, son of Mrs. Bernice Tyson, 1162 Erie St., is in "fairly good" condition with a fractured left wrist suffered in a fall while playing.

James M. Powell, 16, son of Mrs. Elmer Smith of LaCroft, was treated for a cut of the left side of the scalp received when struck with a shovel while working.

In a fall from a bicycle, Richard Seevers, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seevers, 175 Montana Ave., Chester, received a dislocated left elbow.

John Nonamaker, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Nonamaker of Chester, suffered a cut of the right side of the head when hit by a stone thrown by another child at play.

Paul Rhodes, 31, of Hammondsville R. D. 1, employe of the H. K. Porter Co., suffered a back injury while transfering cars of brick.

Okey Morris, 39, of 816 Lisbon St. was treated late yesterday morning for burns of the hands suffered when a spark from a battery charger ignited some gasoline on his hands while he was working on his car at home.

Carolyn Pappas, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pappas, 318 Thompson Ave., suffered a cut of a finger on glass at home.

Good And Sufficient Reasons

The United States is testing its nuclear weapons again.

The difference between most of us and the earnest people who protest resumption of nuclear bomb testing by their government is our determination to stand our ground.

We have no stomach for being pushed around by anyone — the government of Russia, the government of France, the Red Chinese, if they finally learn to set off atomic explosions, or anyone else.

The United States intends not only to keep its powder dry, in the spirit of its ancestors, but to practice its aim and make sure the gun is firing properly. If this offends its critics abroad and its critics at home, so be it. They are only a handful at most, and their thinking is neither realistic nor consistent.

They cannot dissociate themselves physically from the world they live in even if they seem to be seeking a state of mental blindness to its realities.

THERE ARE good and sufficient reasons for the United States to resume nuclear testing. About that there can be no argument.

Whether mankind should be monkeying with rehearsals for nuclear warfare is another issue. It shouldn't be; but it is. And as long as any part of mankind is trying to develop capability to destroy any other part of mankind, those of us who feel responsible for collective security must keep abreast of the potential aggressor's progress.

This is realistic peacemaking. It is a war game played to keep war itself from happening — in the same way that immunization protects men from disease by exposing them to the disease.

It is the same technique that has saved and sometimes lost the peace in other generations. Weapons always have been tested at intervals. Old weapons have been fired to certify their dependability and new ones have been fired to discover their capabilities.

NATIONS have staged war games to impress potential opponents with their strength and to bolster the confidence of their wavering allies. Pacifists have wrung their hands over these demonstrations of belligerence. They have accused militarists of being sword-rattlers and politicians of being the foolish pawns of sword-rattlers. Sometimes they were.

The United States is testing nuclear weapons at Christmas Island in the Pacific. It is testing rockets at Cape Canaveral. It is rehearsing harder for a war it hopes will never come than it ever rehearsed before.

And by this token there is less chance of war now than there ever has been before. No madman or no potential madman can say this time that the United States invited attack by dropping its guard.

Fires Rage On

Brush fires continue to plague the district as the dry weather persists.

Extreme care is called for when fires of any kind are started. Once they get out of control you're in trouble.

The pictures on the front page of today's Review tell the story better than a thousand words.

Why They Want To Argue

It continues to be a curious fact that every move in Washington by people who have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution, including its 14th and 15th amendments, is jumped on by people who have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution minus its 14th and 15th amendments.

The 15th amendment says the rights of citizens of the United States shall not be denied or abridged by any state on account of race or color.

The 14th amendment says, among other things, that no state shall make or enforce any law to abridge citizen rights — that all persons shall have equal protection of the laws.

Yet, when officials who take these amendments to heart call attention to the way they are violated in some states that deny the rights of certain citizens to vote because of race and color they are accused by other citizens of playing fast and loose with the U.S. Constitution.

Is there any way to settle once and for all the claim of states that abridge the voting rights of Negro citizens that they can do this under the Constitution because the power belongs to them under states' rights?

Could it be determined in a way that would leave no room for doubt in the mind of any judge or politician that no state has any right to bar a Negro citizen from the polls only because he is a Negro, whatever hocus-pocus may be used to conceal the reason?

One course of action always has been open, though ignored studiously by southern legalists who argue that states' rights give carte blanche for disregarding the 14th and 15th amendments as is their right under Article V of the Constitution. That would clear the air. They couldn't muster a vote for such a monstrous proposal.

That is obviously what they don't want to do.

They've kept the issue confused so long they have half convinced some of their countrymen that the 14th and 15th amendments do not say what they plainly say.

They have made a career of obfuscation, like southern members of Congress who argue the same doctrine. In fact, many southern congressmen got to be Congressmen by being lawyers opposed to the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution all lawyers swear to uphold.

Getting To The Point

West Virginia officials apparently are considering a penalty point system to get dangerous drivers off the highways, a program now in effect in Ohio.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack Nuckols Thursday indicated his department would rather use its administrative authority to set up a driver improvement program than have it set up by the legislature.

Nuckols, speaking at the annual West Virginia safety conference, said he hopes no attempt will be made to pass specific legislation "until we have an opportunity to work it out through a point system".

Under such a plan, a certain number of penalty points are set for each type of violation, and if a driver compiles a certain maximum amount of points, his license is suspended.

In Ohio and other states the plan has worked to rid highways of a considerable number of offenders. West Virginia would do well to analyze its approach to this road safety program and act to institute it as soon as possible.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

For first time in 300-year history Yale may put the question "Sex?" on application blanks.

Since colonial days it had been duty of Yale cops to swing into action at sound of a female voice anywhere near campus. Scandals and suspicions could follow discovery of lipstick on student laundry. In recent years there have been women in graduate schools and it's a long time since female around the premises upset seismograph.

Nevertheless possible entrance of gals as full time students is sensational. Will the famed last lines of "Bright College Years" be switched to "For Dior, for Givenchy and for Yale"?

In time mother may be known as an Old Yale Blue and your sister on record as the spirit behind the football victory and the clean sweep in Thames River boat race.

Ultimately we may see dormitories named after wealthy Yale women. More and more women are becoming business tycoons and time could bring Yale the "Genevieve Beemish Towers" and "Arabella Vendergriff Hall."

Not to mention the "Susie Smathers Gymnasium," the "Tweedy Sisters Hockey Rink" and the "Dorothy (Snookums) Foundation for Home Cooking" in Yale Dining Hall.

Somewhere woven into Temple, High, College, York, and Hillhouse avenues at New Haven there may be a Maiden Lane and a Petticut St. With change of "Boola Boola" to "Beulah, Beulah."

ARMY DENIES big league ball players will be returned to ball parks in couple of weeks. If players really want to get back on diamonds, why don't they make some speeches not approved by government?

Grover Whalen was Mr. Manhattan, Prime Minister Gladhand, Secretary of Cordiality and Controller of Ticker Tape for New York. No other man was so active in so many fields for so many years with so much success. He began away back under Mayor "Red Mike" Hylan, welcoming the Prince of Wales, then a youngster, chiefly famed for falls off steeplechasers.

Queen Marie of Romania, Gertrude Ederle, General Pershing, Bobby Jones, Amelia Earhart, "Wrongway" Corrigan, and countless kings, premiers and diplomats had red mat rolled by Grover.

Although not nationally famed, John Day Jackson, whose estate probated the other day was recorded as $61 million, was one of the ablest and most successful publishers in America. A few years out of college, he bought for peanut-money a fast fading newspaper and, against a field of four competitors, built it up so rapidly that inside of two decades all rival sheets had folded up or been absorbed by him.

The city is New Haven, Conn., where his paper "The Register," one of the oldest in the nation, has for years been one of the biggest money makers in U.S. newspaper world. He was one of Vanishing Americans who thought thrift, careful bookkeeping, economy, efficiency and nose-to-the-grindstone important.

It was this writer's good fortune to have begun his newspaper life as a cub reporter under Jackson and to have been his managing editor, at age of 23, at the peak of competition in a five-newspaper city.

We thought him a hard taskmaster but came to realize that we owed a lot to his training. He was extra careful about expenses and we recall the day when Clare Thompson had bought two cane-seated chairs for the editorial room at a cost of $3 each. Mr. Jackson questioned the extravagance and asked why they had been bought. "The seats were worn out," said Thompson. "They wouldn't have been if your reporters didn't sit in them so much," was the reply.

Ghandi Spirit Enters Rights Move

By Victor Riesel

In Negro communities across the land — in the teeming hectic North as well as the more leisurely South — a new spirit soon may prevail. It is the spirit Ghandi and the voice of the Rev. Martin Luther King.

Victor Riesel

In more mundane terms, the word is that a vast expansion in emphasis and tactics is waiting in the wings of the national stage.

The emphasis will be on massive, peaceful, persistent resistance eschewing any violence or provocation of violence.

The hope is to win millions of new adherents everywhere, while avoiding extremists who believe that the end justifies the means.

To encompass this, "to inspire, to teach, and to imbue" some 18 million Negroes fully to join in exercising, and whites in recognizing, every nuance of their constitutional prerogatives, the Rev. Mr. King and many clergymen and lawyers soon will launch "The Ghandi Society For Human Rights, Inc."

IT WON'T be an action cadre. It will, after a formal conference sometime in mid-May, collect funds so it can teach Ghandiism to its followers. It will, according to its incorporation papers now awaiting approval from the attorney general of New York State, tell its supporters that:

"No part of the activities of the corporation shall consist of carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, or participating in any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office."

It has a pulsating religious motif. But there practical men, such as the lawyers group organized by one of the incorporators, Theodore W. Kheel. He has long advocated — in his national role as a leading labor arbitrator — great emphasis on peaceful mediation even in the most bitter of union-management conflicts.

Mr. Kheel has just been named special consultant to President Kennedy's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. The admixture of religious and pragmatic fervor will parallel the Ghandi movement in India.

It will be aimed at Negroes' equal use of buses, schools, trains, restaurants, hotels and job opportunities in the North as in the South.

IT'S MY GUESS that the image of Ghandi soon will overshadow the more direct actionists of the Freedom Rider interlude.

Out of this creed of Martin Luther King, based on non-violent persuasion, may come boycotts and endless treks among the Negroes to the ballot boxes.

A foreshadowing can be seen in The Rev. Mr. King's recent "people to people" voters registration drive in Southern communities.

Recently Rev. King led a task force into Virginia. Judging from his reports, he and some of his colleagues personally contacted over 10,000 Negroes within three days.

Thus it was with Ghandi, always moving among his followers until his sheer presence became a centrifugal force.

The Rev. Mr. King and the clergymen now launching the Ghandi movement in the United States believe that "the outcome is pre-ordained." Therefore the means become critical. So they are counting on the lawyers, such as The Rev. Mr. King's good friend Ted Kheel, to win for them "the fulfillment of all legal rights" while the church people preach peaceful persuasion.

HOW? One of the purposes for which the corporation is being organized is:

"To study, develop, establish, and administer plans, projects, and programs designed to enable and encourage attorneys to represent or assist in the representation of persons in need of legal aid as a result of seeking to exercise their constitutional or civil rights; to assist in obtaining legal aid and-or to provide the funds necessary for the payment of legal aid for persons in need of such aid as a result of seeking to exercise their constitutional rights . . . and who, on account of poverty, are unable to employ and engage legal aid or assistance . . ."

Thus with the Bible in one hand, and Blackstone in the other, with Ghandi's passive resistance as the driving force, The Rev. Mr. King and his colleagues hope to lead the land's 18 million Negroes and millions of whites into marching together as a mighty force in every corner of the land.

Japs Learning English

By Jack Russell

TOKYO

The Japanese show boundless enthusiasm for learning English despite what some claim are poor results after so many years of intense effort.

They have mobilized electronics, television and American residents — even Britons in some instances — in their crusade to make English the second language of the Japanese.

Currently, the emphasis is on conversation in an attempt to overcome bad results after the surrender in 1945 and the American occupation, when reading alone was stressed in schools.

Educators and the general public are still complaining that Ichiro may be able to read English, but he can't speak it after continuous instruction from the seventh grade.

It is easy to obtain a university student as a maid or houseboy if foreigners submit to being used as English teachers. Some Americans are even making a tidy income by conducting classes in English at $1.50 an hour per student — a high price in a country where the monthly average wage is about $55.

AND IN JAPAN the baby sitting problem can be solved easily. The following ad was printed recently in an English-language newspaper: "Japanese business girl wants to work as a baby sitter or maid on Saturdays and Sundays to learn English conversation."

A collage coed explained that her reasons for working as a baby sitter and maid are commercial. "English means a job or a higher-paying job after graduation." She hopes to become an airlines stewardess and see the world -- a world that does not speak Japanese.

Bewildered Public

By David Lawrence

Profit Reports Don't Tell Full Story

It's easy enough to bewilder the public with large figures about a company's profits, though in themselves they may be a sign of weakness instead of strength. Thus the country was told during the last 24 hours, in five-minute news summaries on the radio or in newspaper headlines, that the U.S. Steel Corp. had earned $55.8 million in the first quarter of this year. This sounds like a lot of money and promptly raises questions as to why a company which can make that large a sum in only the first quarter of a year should be asking for price increases on its products.

David Lawrence

Precisely because of this superficiality or brevity of treatment, the American people aren't seeing the problem in perspective for the $55.8 million has to be divided into 58 million parts, as that is the number of shares held by the 325,000 owners of U.S. Steel Corp. Receiving 75 cents a share each quarter, or $3 for the whole year, means the holder of common stock is earning less than three per cent on each dollar invested in 1959 when the stock sold for more than $100 a share. Nowadays an investor can buy bonds or keep his money in a savings bank and earn more than three per cent.

So, unless investors see some hope of larger profits and dividends in the future, the free-enterprise system as a whole will face dark days and state socialism will be brought nearer.

There's a serious lesson to be learned from the U.S. Steel Corp. figures announced on Tuesday of this week. In the first place, out of the $55.8 million earned for the initial quarter of the year, $46.9 million was used to pay dividends on stock outstanding. Only $7.9 million was left for debt retirement and about $1 million for other purposes. U.S. Steel actually had spent about $49 million of borrowed money for new plant and equipment in the same first quarter of the year. Hence, the outgo was far in excess of the income.

As a matter of fact, the company three years ago embarked on a program of modernization of plant and equipment costing $1.2 billion. It has about $265 million still to be spent for this purpose this year. It borrowed more than $800 million for the whole program and took the rest out of reserves.

This money, on the other hand, has to be paid back sooner or later. If a company can earn only enough money to pay its current dividend and provide for debt retirement on what it has already borrowed, it cannot very long keep up its renovation of plant facilities. The need for modernization is constant. That's why the price must be high enough to earn income which will pay back money spent and still give the investor an encouraging dividend.

BIG FIGURES are being bandied about also by public officials, who perhaps unwittingly give a misleading impression.

Luther Hodges, the secretary of commerce, for instance, discussed the steel situation at a news conference on Tuesday and made some statements to the reporters which further confuse the problem. The transcript made public by his office quotes Mr. Hodges as having said:

"The administration had in the works and still has in the works two phases of taxation bills which would have relieved part of the situation raised by U.S. Steel if they had taken advantage under the current situation of 8 per cent tax credit incentive. They would have gotten about $35 million excess amount of money, just like a bonanza. They also would have, under the depreciation Schedule F — accelerating Schedule F — gotten an additional $10 million. They would have had $45 million extra amount of money."

What Mr. Hodges forgot to point out to the reporters is that the 8-per-cent tax credit has not yet been passed by Congress and, even so, would apply only to new equipment — and not to other kinds of capital expenditures. If, therefore, it were applied on an expenditure of an estimated $200 million for brand new equipment —a figure believed to be far too big — U.S. Steel Corp. would get a credit of only $16 million. This doesn't go very far toward taking care of the $265 million being spent.

LIKEWISE, the so-called Schedule F on depreciation allowances is so complex that most big companies, considering all the limitations, don't see where they are going to get any real improvement over existing schedules. As these at present are administered, a mistake in forecasting the length of life of a piece of equipment for depreciation purposes can result in a reopening of income tax schedules for previous years.

The administration is trying desperately to justify its course in interfering with the normal operation of American business — which is to get a price that covers costs and allows a reasonable profit.

Today businessmen generally are perplexed because they do not see any economic sense to the formulas and proposals that are supposedly designed to stimulate industry. Instead, nearly every one of the steel companies, for example, is cutting costs severely and planning to lay off more workers. That's not a healthy situation because, as the secretary of commerce says, steel is a kind of bellwether of the national economy.

Letters To The Editor

The American Medical Association's stand on medical care for the aged is paradoxical in that the medical profession accomplishes so much in alleviating suffering, but on the other hand fights a system which has this same goal. Incidentally, all members do not agree with the AMA stand.

Most senior citizens receive just enough money to live on, let alone have any for gambling. Hospitalization insurance is a gamble that the policyholder will not become ill. Also, most health insurance polices contain cost and time stipulations. The trouble is that many old age illnesses do not stay within these limitations.

Sickness is a specter that hangs over the heads of many older people because they exist financially on a tightrope. As high as medical expenses are, an illness to an old person can be catastrophic. What was once a living becomes a nightmare of privation.

Medical care through Social Security seems to be the answer. At least it is a move in the positive direction.

RAYMOND STERNER

Who is my neighbor? That is a question that has bothered people for centuries — especially in our modern dog-eat-dog world.

The writer has an answer to the question in implication if no other way.

Thursday at 3 p.m. the writer received a phone call at the school office that informed him that a roaring fire was out of control in his prize pine trees at his country home. Trees that were planted and nursed along by his late parents and trees that naturally carried a lot of sentimental value.

Unable to leave the classroom to fight the fire, he hurried to the office phone and called neighbors right down the line — Bailey, Taylor, Campbell, Stewart, Midcap—and asked if they would help. The lines buzzed, roads were busy and a flurry of shovels, brooms and spades. And, presto, by the time the writer arrived the fire was out and the greater part of the precious pine trees were saved.

And then just as quickly as they came the neighbors vanished, with a wave of the hand and a cheery, "You're very welcome," to the writer's feeble attempt to say thanks.

No one needs to ask me who my neighbors are.

Odd Facts

Canadians are the gabbiest people in the world — at least on the telephone. This is the conclusion based on recent estimates which showed that the average Canadian made 525 phone calls during the past year. The average U. S. citizen, with about 515 calls, was not too far behind.

Benjamin Franklin, at the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, remarked "We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

The average life expectancy today is 68 years, as compared with 49 years in 1900.

The pictures on the front page of today's Review tell the story better than a thousand words.

Why They Want To Argue

It continues to be a curious fact that every move in Washington by people who have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution, including its 14th and 15th amendments, is jumped on by people who have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution minus its 14th and 15th amendments.

The 15th amendment says the rights of citizens of the United States shall not be denied or abridged by any state on account of race or color.

The 14th amendment says, among other things, that no state shall make or enforce any law to abridge citizen rights — that all persons shall have equal protection of the laws.

Yet, when officials who take these amendments to heart call attention to the way they are violated in some states that deny the rights of certain citizens to vote because of race and color they are accused by other citizens of playing fast and loose with the U.S. Constitution.

Is there any way to settle once and for all the claim of states that abridge the voting rights of Negro citizens that they can do this under the Constitution because the power belongs to them under states' rights?

Could it be determined in a way that would leave no room for doubt in the mind of any judge or politician that no state has any right to bar a Negro citizen from the polls only because he is a Negro, whatever hocus-pocus may be used to conceal the reason?

One course of action always has been open, though ignored studiously by southern legalists who argue that states' rights give carte blanche for disregarding the 14th and 15th amendments as is their right under Article V of the Constitution. That would clear the air. They couldn't muster a vote for such a monstrous proposal.

That is obviously what they don't want to do.

They've kept the issue confused so long they have half convinced some of their countrymen that the 14th and 15th amendments do not say what they plainly say.

They have made a career of obfuscation, like southern members of Congress who argue the same doctrine. In fact, many southern congressmen got to be Congressmen by being lawyers opposed to the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution all lawyers swear to uphold.

Getting To The Point

West Virginia officials apparently are considering a penalty point system to get dangerous drivers off the highways, a program now in effect in Ohio.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack Nuckols Thursday indicated his department would rather use its administrative authority to set up a driver improvement program than have it set up by the legislature.

Nuckols, speaking at the annual West Virginia safety conference, said he hopes no attempt will be made to pass specific legislation "until we have an opportunity to work it out through a point system".

Under such a plan, a certain number of penalty points are set for each type of violation, and if a driver compiles a certain maximum amount of points, his license is suspended.

In Ohio and other states the plan has worked to rid highways of a considerable number of offenders. West Virginia would do well to analyze its approach to this road safety program and act to institute it as soon as possible.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

For first time in 300-year history Yale may put the question "Sex?" on application blanks.

Since colonial days it had been duty of Yale cops to swing into action at sound of a female voice anywhere near campus. Scandals and suspicions could follow discovery of lipstick on student laundry. In recent years there have been women in graduate schools and it's a long time since female around the premises upset seismograph.

Nevertheless possible entrance of gals as full time students is sensational. Will the famed last lines of "Bright College Years" be switched to "For Dior, for Givenchy and for Yale"?

In time mother may be known as an Old Yale Blue and your sister on record as the spirit behind the football victory and the clean sweep in Thames River boat race.

Ultimately we may see dormitories named after wealthy Yale women. More and more women are becoming business tycoons and time could bring Yale the "Genevieve Beemish Towers" and "Arabella Vendergriff Hall."

Not to mention the "Susie Smathers Gymnasium," the "Tweedy Sisters Hockey Rink" and the "Dorothy (Snookums) Foundation for Home Cooking" in Yale Dining Hall.

Somewhere woven into Temple, High, College, York, and Hillhouse avenues at New Haven there may be a Maiden Lane and a Petticut St. With change of "Boola Boola" to "Beulah, Beulah."

ARMY DENIES big league ball players will be returned to ball parks in couple of weeks. If players really want to get back on diamonds, why don't they make some speeches not approved by government?

Grover Whalen was Mr. Manhattan, Prime Minister Gladhand, Secretary of Cordiality and Controller of Ticker Tape for New York. No other man was so active in so many fields for so many years with so much success. He began away back under Mayor "Red Mike" Hylan, welcoming the Prince of Wales, then a youngster, chiefly famed for falls off steeplechasers.

Queen Marie of Romania, Gertrude Ederle, General Pershing, Bobby Jones, Amelia Earhart, "Wrongway" Corrigan, and countless kings, premiers and diplomats had red mat rolled by Grover.

Although not nationally famed, John Day Jackson, whose estate probated the other day was recorded as $61 million, was one of the ablest and most successful publishers in America. A few years out of college, he bought for peanut-money a fast fading newspaper and, against a field of four competitors, built it up so rapidly that inside of two decades all rival sheets had folded up or been absorbed by him.

The city is New Haven, Conn., where his paper "The Register," one of the oldest in the nation, has for years been one of the biggest money makers in U.S. newspaper world. He was one of Vanishing Americans who thought thrift, careful bookkeeping, economy, efficiency and nose-to-the-grindstone important.

It was this writer's good fortune to have begun his newspaper life as a cub reporter under Jackson and to have been his managing editor, at age of 23, at the peak of competition in a five-newspaper city.

We thought him a hard taskmaster but came to realize that we owed a lot to his training. He was extra careful about expenses and we recall the day when Clare Thompson had bought two cane-seated chairs for the editorial room at a cost of $3 each. Mr. Jackson questioned the extravagance and asked why they had been bought. "The seats were worn out," said Thompson. "They wouldn't have been if your reporters didn't sit in them so much," was the reply.

Ghandi Spirit Enters Rights Move

By Victor Riesel

In Negro communities across the land — in the teeming hectic North as well as the more leisurely South — a new spirit soon may prevail. It is the spirit Ghandi and the voice of the Rev. Martin Luther King.

Victor Riesel

In more mundane terms, the word is that a vast expansion in emphasis and tactics is waiting in the wings of the national stage.

The emphasis will be on massive, peaceful, persistent resistance eschewing any violence or provocation of violence.

The hope is to win millions of new adherents everywhere, while avoiding extremists who believe that the end justifies the means.

To encompass this, "to inspire, to teach, and to imbue" some 18 million Negroes fully to join in exercising, and whites in recognizing, every nuance of their constitutional prerogatives, the Rev. Mr. King and many clergymen and lawyers soon will launch "The Ghandi Society For Human Rights, Inc."

IT WON'T be an action cadre. It will, after a formal conference sometime in mid-May, collect funds so it can teach Ghandiism to its followers. It will, according to its incorporation papers now awaiting approval from the attorney general of New York State, tell its supporters that:

"No part of the activities of the corporation shall consist of carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, or participating in any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office."

It has a pulsating religious motif. But there practical men, such as the lawyers group organized by one of the incorporators, Theodore W. Kheel. He has long advocated — in his national role as a leading labor arbitrator — great emphasis on peaceful mediation even in the most bitter of union-management conflicts.

Mr. Kheel has just been named special consultant to President Kennedy's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. The admixture of religious and pragmatic fervor will parallel the Ghandi movement in India.

It will be aimed at Negroes' equal use of buses, schools, trains, restaurants, hotels and job opportunities in the North as in the South.

IT'S MY GUESS that the image of Ghandi soon will overshadow the more direct actionists of the Freedom Rider interlude.

Out of this creed of Martin Luther King, based on non-violent persuasion, may come boycotts and endless treks among the Negroes to the ballot boxes.

A foreshadowing can be seen in The Rev. Mr. King's recent "people to people" voters registration drive in Southern communities.

Recently Rev. King led a task force into Virginia. Judging from his reports, he and some of his colleagues personally contacted over 10,000 Negroes within three days.

Thus it was with Ghandi, always moving among his followers until his sheer presence became a centrifugal force.

The Rev. Mr. King and the clergymen now launching the Ghandi movement in the United States believe that "the outcome is pre-ordained." Therefore the means become critical. So they are counting on the lawyers, such as The Rev. Mr. King's good friend Ted Kheel, to win for them "the fulfillment of all legal rights" while the church people preach peaceful persuasion.

HOW? One of the purposes for which the corporation is being organized is:

"To study, develop, establish, and administer plans, projects, and programs designed to enable and encourage attorneys to represent or assist in the representation of persons in need of legal aid as a result of seeking to exercise their constitutional or civil rights; to assist in obtaining legal aid and-or to provide the funds necessary for the payment of legal aid for persons in need of such aid as a result of seeking to exercise their constitutional rights . . . and who, on account of poverty, are unable to employ and engage legal aid or assistance . . ."

Thus with the Bible in one hand, and Blackstone in the other, with Ghandi's passive resistance as the driving force, The Rev. Mr. King and his colleagues hope to lead the land's 18 million Negroes and millions of whites into marching together as a mighty force in every corner of the land.

Japs Learning English

By Jack Russell

TOKYO

The Japanese show boundless enthusiasm for learning English despite what some claim are poor results after so many years of intense effort.

They have mobilized electronics, television and American residents — even Britons in some instances — in their crusade to make English the second language of the Japanese.

Currently, the emphasis is on conversation in an attempt to overcome bad results after the surrender in 1945 and the American occupation, when reading alone was stressed in schools.

Educators and the general public are still complaining that Ichiro may be able to read English, but he can't speak it after continuous instruction from the seventh grade.

It is easy to obtain a university student as a maid or houseboy if foreigners submit to being used as English teachers. Some Americans are even making a tidy income by conducting classes in English at $1.50 an hour per student — a high price in a country where the monthly average wage is about $55.

AND IN JAPAN the baby sitting problem can be solved easily. The following ad was printed recently in an English-language newspaper: "Japanese business girl wants to work as a baby sitter or maid on Saturdays and Sundays to learn English conversation."

A collage coed explained that her reasons for working as a baby sitter and maid are commercial. "English means a job or a higher-paying job after graduation." She hopes to become an airlines stewardess and see the world — a world that does not speak Japanese.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pickin returned to their home on Vine St. after three months at Lake Worth, Fla., and New York City.

Bewildered Public

By David Lawrence

Profit Reports Don't Tell Full Story

It's easy enough to bewilder the public with large figures about a company's profits, though in themselves they may be a sign of weakness instead of strength. Thus the country was told during the last 24 hours, in five-minute news summaries on the radio or in newspaper headlines, that the U.S. Steel Corp. had earned $55.8 million in the first quarter of this year. This sounds like a lot of money and promptly raises questions as to why a company which can make that large a sum in only the first quarter of a year should be asking for price increases on its products.

David Lawrence

Precisely because of this superficiality or brevity of treatment, the American people aren't seeing the problem in perspective for the $55.8 million has to be divided into 58 million parts, as that is the number of shares held by the 325,000 owners of U.S. Steel Corp. Receiving 75 cents a share each quarter, or $3 for the whole year, means the holder of common stock is earning less than three per cent on each dollar invested in 1959 when the stock sold for more than $100 a share. Nowadays an investor can buy bonds or keep his money in a savings bank and earn more than three per cent.

So, unless investors see some hope of larger profits and dividends in the future, the free-enterprise system as a whole will face dark days and state socialism will be brought nearer.

There's a serious lesson to be learned from the U.S. Steel Corp. figures announced on Tuesday of this week. In the first place, out of the $55.8 million earned for the initial quarter of the year, $46.9 million was used to pay dividends on stock outstanding. Only $7.9 million was left for debt retirement and about $1 million for other purposes. U.S. Steel actually had spent about $49 million of borrowed money for new plant and equipment in the same first quarter of the year. Hence, the outgo was far in excess of the income.

As a matter of fact, the company three years ago embarked on a program of modernization of plant and equipment costing $1.2 billion. It has about $265 million still to be spent for this purpose this year. It borrowed more than $800 million for the whole program and took the rest out of reserves.

This money, on the other hand, has to be paid back sooner or later. If a company can earn only enough money to pay its current dividend and provide for debt retirement on what it has already borrowed, it cannot very long keep up its renovation of plant facilities. The need for modernization is constant. That's why the price must be high enough to earn income which will pay back money spent and still give the investor an encouraging dividend.

BIG FIGURES are being bandied about also by public officials, who perhaps unwittingly give a misleading impression.

Luther Hodges, the secretary of commerce, for instance, discussed the steel situation at a news conference on Tuesday and made some statements to the reporters which further confuse the problem. The transcript made public by his office quotes Mr. Hodges as having said:

"The administration had in the works and still has in the works two phases of taxation bills which would have relieved part of the situation raised by U.S. Steel if they had taken advantage under the current situation of 8 per cent tax credit incentive. They would have gotten about $35 million excess amount of money, just like a bonanza. They also would have, under the depreciation Schedule F — accelerating Schedule F — gotten an additional $10 million. They would have had $45 million extra amount of money."

What Mr. Hodges forgot to point out to the reporters is that the 8-per-cent tax credit has not yet been passed by Congress and, even so, would apply only to new equipment — and not to other kinds of capital expenditures. If, therefore, it were applied on an expenditure of an estimated $200 million for brand new equipment —a figure believed to be far too big — U.S. Steel Corp. would get a credit of only $16 million. This doesn't go very far toward taking care of the $265 million being spent.

LIKEWISE, the so-called Schedule F on depreciation allowances is so complex that most big companies, considering all the limitations, don't see where they are going to get any real improvement over existing schedules. As these at present are administered, a mistake in forecasting the length of life of a piece of equipment for depreciation purposes can result in a reopening of income tax schedules for previous years.

The administration is trying desperately to justify its course in interfering with the normal operation of American business — which is to get a price that covers costs and allows a reasonable profit.

Today businessmen generally are perplexed because they do not see any economic sense to the formulas and proposals that are supposedly designed to stimulate industry. Instead, nearly every one of the steel companies, for example, is cutting costs severely and planning to lay off more workers. That's not a healthy situation because, as the secretary of commerce says, steel is a kind of bellwether of the national economy.

Letters To The Editor

The American Medical Association's stand on medical care for the aged is paradoxical in that the medical profession accomplishes so much in alleviating suffering, but on the other hand fights a system which has this same goal. Incidentally, all members do not agree with the AMA stand.

Most senior citizens receive just enough money to live on, let alone have any for gambling. Hospitalization insurance is a gamble that the policyholder will not become ill. Also, most health insurance polices contain cost and time stipulations. The trouble is that many old age illnesses do not stay within these limitations.

Sickness is a specter that hangs over the heads of many older people because they exist financially on a tightrope. As high as medical expenses are, an illness to an old person can be catastrophic. What was once a living becomes a nightmare of privation.

Medical care through Social Security seems to be the answer. At least it is a move in the positive direction.

Who is my neighbor? That is a question that has bothered people for centuries — especially in our modern dog-eat-dog world.

The writer has an answer to the question in implication if no other way.

Thursday at 3 p.m. the writer received a phone call at the school office that informed him that a roaring fire was out of control in his prize pine trees at his country home. Trees that were planted and nursed along by his late parents and trees that naturally carried a lot of sentimental value.

Unable to leave the classroom to fight the fire, he hurried to the office phone and called neighbors right down the line — Bailey, Taylor, Campbell, Stewart, Midcap—and asked if they would help. The lines buzzed, roads were busy and a flurry of shovels, brooms and spades. And, presto, by the time the writer arrived the fire was out and the greater part of the precious pine trees were saved.

And then just as quickly as they came the neighbors vanished, with a wave of the hand and a cheery, "You're very welcome," to the writer's feeble attempt to say thanks.

No one needs to ask me who my neighbors are.

Odd Facts

Canadians are the gabbiest people in the world — at least on the telephone. This is the conclusion based on recent estimates which showed that the average Canadian made 525 phone calls during the past year. The average U. S. citizen, with about 515 calls, was not too far behind.

Benjamin Franklin, at the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, remarked "We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

The average life expectancy today is 68 years, as compared with 49 years in 1900.

Drivers Cited From Air In Spotter Plane

Hearings for some of 17 motorists who were cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol's plane spotter Monday were held Thursday before County Judge Howard Arfman at East Palestine.

The plane, based at Columbus, operated throughout the county Monday with the regular pilot along with a patrolman from the Lisbon barracks as observer.

Various violations such as stop sign and crossing a yellow line were noted, and information relayed by radio to a cruiserman below who made the arrest -- to the surprise of many drivers. No speeding arrests were made through use of the plane, officers said.

Meanwhile, 11 area motorists were penalized at traffic hearings yesterday before the judge. Not all were results of plane citations.

Clifford Holland of the Y. & O. Rd. and Harold G. Miller, 1251 Pennsylvania Ave., were fined $5 and costs each for crossing a yellow line.

Olean E. Eagle, 410 E. 3rd St., forfeited $20 bond for passing at an intersection, and Elma Fluharty of the Y. & O. Rd. was fined $5 and costs on a similar charge.

Raymond O. Burkey of Lisbon R.D. 3 was fined $5 and costs for driving left of center, and Thomas Pinkerton of Lisbon R. D. 3, cited for reckless operation after a mishap on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. last week, was fined $10 and costs for reckless operation.

Mary M. Glenn of Allison Park, involved in a two-car crash at Unity last week, forfeited $20 for failure to yield the right-of-way. Edgar Esterly of New Waterford R.D. was fined $10 and Judy Hubbard of New Waterford was fined $5, both for speeding.

Allen E. Cohen of Harriet St., cited for failure to halt for a stop sign at Route 30 and 7, pleaded no contest, and the charge was dismissed.

Auto Mechanics' Talks Are Futile

"No progress" towards a settlement was reported Thursday night in the sixth of a series of negotiations for a new contract between city auto mechanics and operators of auto agencies and repair shops in East Liverpool.

Eurshel T. Powell of Litten's, president of Ceramic City Auto Mechanics Lodge 1019 of the International Association of Machinists, said "no progress" was made at the meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The lodge is reportedly seeking 25 cents per hour increase in wages. The basic hourly wage presently is $2.25 and the lodge reported the last pay raise came in 1958.

The 64 active mechanics who are members of Lodge 1019 have continued at work on a day-to-day basis since the old contract expired March 23.

A federal mediator from Akron was present for last night's meeting. No date was set for further negotiations.

Sewage Plant Financing To Be Discussed

SALINEVILLE — Financing for a proposed sewage disposal plant will be discussed at a meeting of Council Monday night at 7:30, Mayor Stanley Fitch announced today.

The mayor said Salineville has been granted a renewal of a sewage permit by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board through Aug. 15.

The board, however, has advised the community steps must be taken toward preparing financing plans for the project required under the state anti-pollution program.

Salineville has no sewage system at present.

The Madison Engineering Co., which conducted a preliminary survey for a sewage system about two years ago, is to be consulted about a revised system. The tentative cost of the planned system was $509,000.

Mayor Fitch said he also will report on estimates received for installation of parking meters.

Arizona Doctor Got Wrong Delivery Room

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The switchboard operator at the Tucson Daily Citizen took the call.

Auto Mechanics' Talks Are Futile

"No progress" towards a settlement was reported Thursday night in the sixth of a series of negotiations for a new contract between city auto mechanics and operators of auto agencies and repair shops in East Liverpool.

Eurshel T. Powell of Litten's, president of Ceramic City Auto Mechanics Lodge 1019 of the International Association of Machinists, said "no progress" was made at the meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The lodge is reportedly seeking 25 cents per hour increase in wages. The basic hourly wage presently is $2.25 and the lodge reported the last pay raise came in 1958.

The 64 active mechanics who are members of Lodge 1019 have continued at work on a day-to-day basis since the old contract expired March 23.

A federal mediator from Akron was present for last night's meeting. No date was set for further negotiations.

Army Would Eliminate 475

Some Governors Protest Plan To Cut Guard Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the nation's governors are up in arms over an Army plan for cutting out 475 of the states' National Guard units.

A barrage of telephone calls, telegrams and statements hit the Pentagon after the Army's National Guard Bureau Wednesday sent out the plan to all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

One of the many objectors, Iowa's Gov. Norman Erbe, interpreted the action as an order and said he would not comply.

Caught in the middle was Maj. Gen. Donald W. McGowan, chief of the National Guard Bureau, who was carrying out Pentagon orders to reduce the Guard by about 33,000.

McGowan said the plan was a proposal, not an order, and he stressed that law requires approval by a governor before a unit in his state may be altered or disbanded.

Many of the governors said flatly they would refuse to accept.

Govs. John M. Dalton of Missouri and John Anderson of Kansas said they would refuse to release any Guard units.

The program of cut-backs is part of a general reorganization of the Army Reserve and Guard in which eight infantry divisions will be broken up in brigades and six others retooled into ready-to-go outfits.

The aim, said a Guard spokesman, is to apply an average 10 per cent slice across the board, but he said that this may vary from state to state.

McGowan himself gave only luke-warm support for the reorganization plan of the Guard when he appeared before a Senate Appropriations committee April 6.

He said it was the best possible plan "within the strength and budget guidelines" but that he was sorry to lose the men.

He told the senators then the "loss will be felt in every state."

It apparently hit home when the rollback plans reached the state capitals.

Among the units to be chopped out are infantry battle groups, air defense batteries armed with the Nike-Ajax missile now being replaced with a more potent weapon, antiaircraft batteries, truck companies and engineer battalions.

SPRING AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, Spring, with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement, it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro-organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team, these infinitesimal forms of life break down and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that, during the spring season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than at any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY???

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and, since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy so that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in the millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "skeleton crew" of weakened bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil, almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and spring showers add to the problem by increasing the amount of water entering the system.

HOW SEA-CAL ENZYMES HELP

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard grease packs in the septic tanks and drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria. SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population is rapidly built up to adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

Youth, 13, Missing 4 Days, Found Safe In West Virginia

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy who became confused as to directions in a rugged wooded area near here retained enough presence of mind to remain in one place when he realized he was lost.

Authorities theorized today that might have saved the life of Sharrel Green, found late yesterday about 4½ miles from his Gauley Mills Home. The boy had been missing since about 8 a.m. Monday.

Sheriff Willard Doddrill said that James and Richard Bean of nearby Cowen and an unidentified companion found the boy after leaving the main search party to explore an area off a railroad right of way.

The youth left the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Green, Monday accompanied by his dog. The dog returned about two hours later.

The boy told his rescuers that he was en route to the home of a former playmate when he became confused. He built a bed of laurel and dried leaves at the foot of a rock cliff, and remained there until he was found.

While he was scratched and weak, the youngster was in "satisfactory" condition today at a Richwood hospital, where he was taken for observation. His first food yesterday was some cookies given him by one of his rescuers.

Doddrill said that up to 75 persons tramped the east - central West Virginia area in the vicinity of the Green home in search of the missing youngster.

Youth, 13, Missing 4 Days, Found Safe In West Virginia

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy who became confused as to directions in a rugged wooded area near here retained enough presence of mind to remain in one place when he realized he was lost.

Authorities theorized today that might have saved the life of Sharrel Green, found late yesterday about 4½ miles from his Gauley Mills Home. The boy had been missing since about 8 a.m. Monday.

Sheriff Willard Doddrill said that James and Richard Bean of nearby Cowen and an unidentified companion found the boy after leaving the main search party to explore an area off a railroad right of way.

The youth left the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Green, Monday accompanied by his dog. The dog returned about two hours later.

The boy told his rescuers that he was en route to the home of a former playmate when he became confused. He built a bed of laurel and dried leaves at the foot of a rock cliff, and remained there until he was found.

While he was scratched and weak, the youngster was in "satisfactory" condition today at a Richwood hospital, where he was taken for observation. His first food yesterday was some cookies given him by one of his rescuers.

Doddrill said that up to 75 persons tramped the east - central West Virginia area in the vicinity of the Green home in search of the missing youngster.

Steubenville Man Reported As 'OK' In Poison Threat

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Maryland state police broadcast a three-state lookout Thursday night for a Steubenville man. They said he may have been threatened with ptomaine poisoning.

But Frank Carfagna arrived home later and went to see his family doctor after being told of the report by Steubenville police. "Everything is okay," a police officer said. "He's feeling fine."

Police said Carfagna was traveling alone.

The poisoning, apparently caused by potato salad served by a Havre de Grace, Md., restaurant, hospitalized four Maryland residents who had also visited the restaurant.

A spokesman at Harford Memorial Hospital said the four were "very ill when brought here, but were responding to treatment now."

$6 Million College Fund Drive Launched

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A $6 million fund-raising drive has been launched for two new buildings at the University of Dayton and a joint college to be operated by Miami and Ohio State universities.

Some 1,200 persons were on hand for the kickoff Thursday night which resulted in immediate donations of $2,260,000, including a $1 million gift from the National Cash Register Foundation.

Of the $6 million total, $3 million would go for a new student union and business administration building at UD. The remainder will go for the joint college, which at first would operate as a two-year college and graduate school.

Grass In Streets Was 1830 'Kick'

By GLENN WAIGHT

For over 30 years after Thomas Fawcett founded his little hamlet along the muddy banks of the Ohio River in 1798, the chief street problem was finding a fairly dry route through the weeds and mud puddles.

In 1823 the town was described as largely grass and wild growth with a horsepath along the center

Second In A Series of 2nd St. Seven years later the streets still were grown with grass "in most cases indistinguishable from the common."

—:—

IN THE 1830's a roadway was built between New Lisbon and the ferry crossing here, and this increasingly - used route added to the more local east - west flow of traffic from Wellsville and Smiths Ferry along the river. Transportation was largely on the river, however.

Start of the pottery industry in 1840 spurred the growth of the town, but even five years later, there were only sparse houses, four one-kiln potteries and everything north of 4th St. and west of Market St. was farmland, spotted with wandering cows.

Streets still were stretches of clay soil, occasionally filled in with river gravel or rough wooden planking. On horse or in buggy, the rider was plagued by mud or dust, and men and women on foot at times found walking a real challenge.

NEWSPAPER editors periodically called for a solution. In 1861, the Mercury declared:

"Our streets are just now in a mighty bad condition for pedestrianism. We suggest that the sidewalks and crossings be either paved in some way or that ferries be established at convenient distances. . .Whichever of these methods of abating the nuisance is deemed most practicable should be attended to and at once, or people will have to go through and not along our streets."

But something had been done. In October 1861 the village enacted a road ordinance calling for all able-bodied men to serve three days a year on streets and alleys, and also called for a road tax of 50 cents which — with fines — was to be used for "streets, alleys and wharves." A householder could provide a substitute for the road duty or pay 50 cents a day penalty.

A ROAD supervisor was appointed to direct this program at $1.25 a day, the apparent start of the city street department.

Improvement of the city continued apace, marked by provision of hard surfaces for various thoroughfares. In 1889, for example, a $20,000 project put brick paving on 5th St. and 6th St. from Market to Monroe, on Washington from Broadway to 2nd St., on Market from the Horn Switch to the railroad and on Broadway and 2nd St.

Contractors were paid $1.12 a square yard for brick with foundation or $1.02 without.

Throughout the 19th Century and very early in the 20th Century, city streets and district roads were laid out and constructed for horse and buggy travel. Rights-of-way were narrow, grades were steep, curves were sharp and unbanked, and brick and macadam were laid to support a wagon load of farm produce or lumber at the heaviest.

—:—

FEW ENGINEERS could envisage steady streams of 1½-ton autos, 6 ton buses or 19-ton trucks hammering along a highway or main thoroughfare at 40, 50 or 60 miles an hour.

Thus we have inherited twisting, narrow Lisbon St. hill and axle-rattling St. Clair Ave. with grades of 15 per cent in places.

Nor did the problems of parking, traffic congestion or flowing crowds of shoppers occur to city planners, leaving to the mid-20th Century a legacy of 36-foot-wide streets, five-way intersections (Broadway and 6th) and elbow contests between pedestrians hurrying two directions on sidewalks.

Gradually, the city and state and property owners extended concrete, blacktop and brick past the downtown district.

But today there are only 40.95 miles of paved streets and 3.24 miles of paved alleys; 20.24 miles of streets are unpaved and 8.55 miles of alleys are unpaved.

—:—

FOR A CITY East Liverpool's size (22,306 in 1960 and 24,217 in 1950) this is not an especial accomplishment.

Ohio Highway Department figures show the city has 38.68 miles of paved streets, 2.9 miles of gravel or stone streets and 17.6 miles of earth streets.

Tiffin, with a population of 21,478 has 8.61 miles of paved streets, 6.8 gravel or stone and 1.74 earth.

Ashtabula (population 24,559) has 8.16 miles of paved streets, 7.5 gravel or stone and 11.8 earth.

Chillicothe (population 24,957) has 74.51 paved streets, 0.12 gravel or stone and 2.33 earth. Alliance, with a population of 28,362 has 56.86 miles of paved streets, 35.57 miles of gravel or stone streets and only 0.15 earth streets.

—:—

IN COLUMBIANA County, Wellsville, whose population (7,117) is a third of East Liverpool's, has 20.39 miles of paved streets, 4.89 miles of gravel or stone streets and no dirt streets, the highway report shows.

Salem, with a population of 13,854, has 36.42 miles of paved streets, 1.08 miles of gravel or stone streets and 12.58 miles of earth streets.

In the four-year period of 1955-58, East Liverpool spent less than the four other cities of similar size on street improvement and maintenance.

The average for the four-year period here was $195,419 — $31,672 for improvement and $163,747 for maintenance.

The average for Alliance was $429,849—$190,280 for improvement and $239,569 for maintenance. The average for Ashtabula was $302,428, for Tiffin $211,483, and for Chillicothe $265,648.

—:—

THE LAST major new street construction done in the city was a $65,000 blacktop paving of 15 streets, largely in the residential areas, in 1955. The city spent $90,000 on resurfacing existing pavement, many in the business district, in 1948.

The new street work undertaken in 1955 resulted from a plan by which property owners filed petitions for the improvements which in turn were legislated by Council, with the property owners assessed on their tax duplicates or paying in cash.

In most cases in the past, new streets were constructed after financing by neighborhood collections, but many proposed projects failed because one or two families would not contribute.

IN APRIL 1961, Council announced plans for a co-operative street paving program by which the city would pay roughly 50 per cent of the cost and property owners would be assessed a flat, guaranteed cost per front foot.

The city's share was to have come from the income tax but the tax failed to produce as much as anticipated and the program was dropped. The city is obligated only to pay 2 per cent of the street construction costs, plus intersections.

The present Council is contemplating anew the 50 per cent share plan.

Man Leaves Stretcher To Get Mail For Trip

OLEAN, N. Y. — Firemen on an ambulance run struggled down two twisting flights of stairs, carefully carrying a man on a stretcher.

At the bottom, they put the stretcher down to rest.

The "victim" spied some mail in his mailbox, calmly got up and removed it, then lay down again with the remark: "I might want to read this in the hospital."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Lack Of Playmates Hinders Child

I get many a letter about the child, say from five to seven, described as aggressive toward other children at school, or very shy there, or quarrelsome with neighbor children when his family has moved to a new community. Or he may cry to stay home from school. One sad note in all these letters is that he never has had anybody to play with. Even if he has few conflicts now with other children, he may go on through high school as a very lonely person. He may have lived on a farm or in a community with no other children nearby. Or he may have often moved with his parents without staying anywhere long enough to cultivate playmates.

Dr. Garry Meyers

THOUGH USUALLY an only child, he may have brothers and sisters. But they rarely are normal playmates because of age differences. He may also seriously lack in normal social skills when playing with other children near his own age.

Always I feel sorry for this child. How much he has been handicapped, his parents rarely realize. They try to discipline him and correct his ugly ways. Sometimes they blame the other children of the neighborhood who tease, bully or gang up on this socially handicapped child.

Some immediate curbing and disciplining may be necessary, yet this child may not be helped much until he can make up some of his arrears in normal social education.

And it's much harder to make up such arrears that have occurred over one, two or more years, than to make up arrears in reading, spelling or arithmetic. A skillful tutor or good clinic might help him with the latter, but who is there to help him make up his lost play experiences?

—:—

NEVERTHELESS, MUCH may be done. Skillful parents may attract playmates to the home and so have opportunity to study this child and guide him in being a better playmate. They may find all sorts of other ways to help him enjoy fun with other children and to compete with them with considerable satisfaction.

It would be fortunate if the young child could be in a nursery school or kindergarten, even attend pre-school sessions at Sunday school.

But we should be patient with this child and not look for miracles. The road ahead may be long and steep, but rewards await the climbers. Let parents of mere toddlers take note and try to prevent such problems.

My bulletins, "Tot Learning to Be Sociable" and "Your Child and His Playmates," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

News Official Tells Club Of Glenn's Flight

The tense moments at Cape Canaveral preceding and during Col. John Glenn's orbital space flight last month were described for the Kiwanis Club by Al Dix, Martins Ferry newspaperman, at a "Ladies Day" luncheon Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dix, assistant to the publisher of Dix Newspapers, has been at the famed space launch center six times in the past year, including the launchings of Cmdr. Alan Sheppard and Capt. Marvin Grissom on their suborbital flights and the Glenn flight.

Comparing the Glenn flight with discovery of modern medical drugs for its impact on man and opening of the space world, Dix said the orbital flight was "magnificent."

He discussed the Project Mercury goal of placing a man on the moon, and related aspects of the procedures and incidents at the cape.

Dix declared the astronauts are very capable men who know fear and apprehension in connection with their hazardous tasks, but are confident, determined and have a sense of humor.

He detailed some of the preparation and activities during Col. Glenn's flight, and said that he along with 180,000,000 other Americans was "very proud of the accomplishment."

Dix, concluding, said the first thing he did when he returned home was to purchase an American flag — "the first I've ever bought" and flew it at his home for a week.

He was introduced by Paul Blair, president, who was program chairman. About 54 attended.

In most cases in the past, new streets were constructed after financing by neighborhood collections, but many proposed projects failed because one or two families would not contribute.

—:—

IN APRIL 1961, Council announced plans for a co-operative street paving program by which the city would pay roughly 50 per cent of the cost and property owners would be assessed a flat, guaranteed cost per front foot.

The city's share was to have come from the income tax but the tax failed to produce as much as anticipated and the program was dropped. The city is obligated only to pay 2 per cent of the street construction costs, plus intersections.

The present Council is contemplating anew the 50 per cent share plan.

Man Leaves Stretcher To Get Mail For Trip

OLEAN, N. Y. — Firemen on an ambulance run struggled down two twisting flights of stairs, carefully carrying a man on a stretcher.

At the bottom, they put the stretcher down to rest.

The "victim" spied some mail in his mailbox, calmly got up and removed it, then lay down again with the remark: "I might want to read this in the hospital."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Lack Of Playmates Hinders Child

I get many a letter about the child, say from five to seven, described as aggressive toward other children at school, or very shy there, or quarrelsome with neighbor children when his family has moved to a new community. Or he may cry to stay home from school. One sad note in all these letters is that he never has had anybody to play with. Even if he has few conflicts now with other children, he may go on through high school as a very lonely person. He may have lived on a farm or in a community with no other children nearby. Or he may have often moved with his parents without staying anywhere long enough to cultivate playmates.

THOUGH USUALLY an only child, he may have brothers and sisters. But they rarely are normal playmates because of age differences. He may also seriously lack in normal social skills when playing with other children near his own age.

Always I feel sorry for this child. How much he has been handicapped, his parents rarely realize. They try to discipline him and correct his ugly ways. Sometimes they blame the other children of the neighborhood who tease, bully or gang up on this socially handicapped child.

Some immediate curbing and disciplining may be necessary, yet this child may not be helped much until he can make up some of his arrears in normal social education.

And it's much harder to make up such arrears that have occurred over one, two or more years, than to make up arrears in reading, spelling or arithmetic. A skillful tutor or good clinic might help him with the latter, but who is there to help him make up his lost play experiences?

—:—

NEVERTHELESS, MUCH may be done. Skillful parents may attract playmates to the home and so have opportunity to study this child and guide him in being a better playmate. They may find all sorts of other ways to help him enjoy fun with other children and to compete with them with considerable satisfaction.

It would be fortunate if the young child could be in a nursery school or kindergarten, even attend pre-school sessions at Sunday school.

But we should be patient with this child and not look for miracles. The road ahead may be long and steep, but rewards await the climbers. Let parents of mere toddlers take note and try to prevent such problems.

My bulletins, "Tot Learning to Be Sociable" and "Your Child and His Playmates," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

News Official Tells Club Of Glenn's Flight

The tense moments at Cape Canaveral preceding and during Col. John Glenn's orbital space flight last month were described for the Kiwanis Club by Al Dix, Martins Ferry newspaperman, at a "Ladies Day" luncheon Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dix, assistant to the publisher of Dix Newspapers, has been at the famed space launch center six times in the past year, including the launchings of Cmdr. Alan Sheppard and Capt. Marvin Grissom on their suborbital flights and the Glenn flight.

Comparing the Glenn flight with discovery of modern medical drugs for its impact on man and opening of the space world, Dix said the orbital flight was "magnificent."

He discussed the Project Mercury goal of placing a man on the moon, and related aspects of the procedures and incidents at the cape.

Dix declared the astronauts are very capable men who know fear and apprehension in connection with their hazardous tasks, but are confident, determined and have a sense of humor.

He detailed some of the preparation and activities during Col. Glenn's flight, and said that he along with 180,000,000 other Americans was "very proud of the accomplishment."

Dix, concluding, said the first thing he did when he returned home was to purchase an American flag — "the first I've ever bought" and flew it at his home for a week.

He was introduced by Paul Blair, president, who was program chairman. About 54 attended.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'll put it in blunt language. I have outgrown my wife.

She was all right 16 years ago when I was a country rube from Grand Island, Neb. But I've come a long way since then and she is still back in Grand Island—mentally, that is.

We have no children and I don't know what she does with her time. She never reads a book or the editorial page of a newspaper. Her idea of current events or world affairs if what's happening to Liz and Eddie. She bores me with her back-fence gossip.

I travel a lot in my work and have lunches and dinners with sophisticated, good-looking department store buyers. One very attractive young divorcee pointed out that when a person outgrows his shoes he throws them away. Life is too short to hang on to things which no longer have meaning. How about it?—WES.

-:-

Dear Wes: How charming of the woman to compare your wife to a pair of old shoes. And how noble of you to let her get away with it.

If you think your wife is provincial why don't you take her along on some of your trips and help her, instead of discussing her failings with outsiders?

And no cracks, please, about Grand Island, Neb. The small towns of America have produced some of our most illustrious names.

Broken Romance

Dear Ann: Don't tell me I'm crazy. I know it. Any woman who would allow an engagement to drag for 11 years would have to be nuts. What I want to know is whether or not I should make this heel pay through the pocketbook.

I was 23 when John and I met. It was love at first sight. He had looks, family background, a promising future and charm to burn. We were engaged in 1951. Don't ask me why we never married. I don't know the answer.

Four months ago he hired a new secretary — a sloe-eyed, shapely brunette of 23. After she had worked there only a week John said she was the most efficient girl he'd ever seen. I heard whispers but thought it was just gossip.

Last week John told me our romance had simply worn itself out. He is going to marry this girl.

Shall I sue him for breach of promise? He has plenty of money and I have nothing but—A BROKEN HEART.

-:-

Dear Broken Heart: Breach of promise suits are outlawed in many states. And even where they aren't outlawed, I do not support such action.

You went with this man for 11 years of your own volition. You were a fool.

If money can mend your broken heart you have a most unusual ticker. What you REALLY need is a repair man from the cash register company.

Neighbor Problem

Dear Ann: We moved into this house four months ago. My wife and I are quiet, mind-your-own-business types and we don't fool much with neighbors. In all our years we've never had trouble with anybody and we don't want trouble now.

The family next door includes a couple of boys who bounce a basketball on the side of our house until it drives us crazy. They also have a dog that barks all day and half the night. If we could do something about that basketball I think we could stand the dog.

I've always heard that when you complain to neighbors about their kids or dogs it never gets better. It always gets worse. What's your advice?—HEADACHE.

-:-

Dear Headache: Don't complain. ASK them if you can help put up a basketball hoop on THEIR garage, or on the side of their house. As for the dog, maybe wax earplugs will help.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'll put it in blunt language. I have outgrown my wife.

She was all right 16 years ago when I was a country rube from Grand Island, Neb. But I've come a long way since then and she is still back in Grand Island—mentally, that is.

We have no children and I don't know what she does with her time. She never reads a book or the editorial page of a newspaper. Her idea of current events or world affairs if what's happening to Liz and Eddie. She bores me with her back-fence gossip.

I travel a lot in my work and have lunches and dinners with sophisticated, good-looking department store buyers. One very attractive young divorcee pointed out that when a person outgrows his shoes he throws them away. Life is too short to hang on to things which no longer have meaning. How about it?—WES.

-:-

Dear Wes: How charming of the woman to compare your wife to a pair of old shoes. And how noble of you to let her get away with it.

If you think your wife is provincial why don't you take her along on some of your trips and help her, instead of discussing her failings with outsiders?

And no cracks, please, about Grand Island, Neb. The small towns of America have produced some of our most illustrious names.

Broken Romance

Dear Ann: Don't tell me I'm crazy. I know it. Any woman who would allow an engagement to drag for 11 years would have to be nuts. What I want to know is whether or not I should make this heel pay through the pocketbook.

I was 23 when John and I met. It was love at first sight. He had looks, family background, a promising future and charm to burn. We were engaged in 1951. Don't ask me why we never married. I don't know the answer.

Four months ago he hired a new secretary — a sloe-eyed, shapely brunette of 23. After she had worked there only a week John said she was the most efficient girl he'd ever seen. I heard whispers but thought it was just gossip.

Last week John told me our romance had simply worn itself out. He is going to marry this girl.

Shall I sue him for breach of promise? He has plenty of money and I have nothing but—A BROKEN HEART.

-:-

Dear Broken Heart: Breach of promise suits are outlawed in many states. And even where they aren't outlawed, I do not support such action.

You went with this man for 11 years of your own volition. You were a fool.

If money can mend your broken heart you have a most unusual ticker. What you REALLY need is a repair man from the cash register company.

Neighbor Problem

Dear Ann: We moved into this house four months ago. My wife and I are quiet, mind-your-own-business types and we don't fool much with neighbors. In all our years we've never had trouble with anybody and we don't want trouble now.

The family next door includes a couple of boys who bounce a basketball on the side of our house until it drives us crazy. They also have a dog that barks all day and half the night. If we could do something about that basketball I think we could stand the dog.

I've always heard that when you complain to neighbors about their kids or dogs it never gets better. It always gets worse. What's your advice?—HEADACHE.

-:-

Dear Headache: Don't complain. ASK them if you can help put up a basketball hoop on THEIR garage, or on the side of their house. As for the dog, maybe wax earplugs will help.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thirty-seven members of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group, observing their birthday anniversaries during February, March and April, were honored at a party at a meeting of the group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall. About 87 members were present.

The birthday cake that centered the table was donated by the East Liverpool Federation of Women's Clubs. The blessing was given by the Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church.

Members will attend the 11 a. m. services May 6 at the Calvary church and are to meet at the church at 10:40.

The meeting was opened by the Rev. John Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who used Scripture from John 6 and offered prayer. Marlow Russell, president, presided, and the group joined in the flag salute.

McElroy Opinion Hits Sheppard's Hypnosis Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today there is no legal basis in law for Dr. Sam Sheppard's legal maneuver to force Correction Chief Maury C. Koblentz to give the convicted Cuyahoga County slayer a hypnosis test.

Sheppard is serving a life term for the slaying of his wife Marilyn in their Bay Village home July 4, 1954. His case has been in and out of the courts since that time and he has failed at every turn to gain his freedom.

The attorney general filed a demurrer in the Ohio Supreme Court today and also said Sheppard's mandamus action for the test should have been directed at Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. Haines is Koblentz's superior.

The Sheppard action seeking the test was filed March 30. Sheppard pleaded that hypnosis might bring out new evidence to establish his innocence. He now is in Marion Correctional Institution.

Follow-Up Study Set For Students

A comprehensive follow - up study of graduates will be launched with the June graduating class of East Liverpool High School.

Seniors completed a form Thursday listing their name, parents' name and address and checked on what their future plans are, Principal George Hargraves said.

The first follow-up will be made this fall by cards, telephone and personal contact to ascertain what the graduates are doing. It should provide information on the class by Christmas, he explained.

The program will be continued each year so the school will have information available on the activities of its graduates.

The form also provides a space for school officials to note other information concerning the graduates as it becomes available.

Hargraves explained the study could have an affect on the curriculum by showing what the graduates are doing, such as attending college, working, attending technical school or in the military service.

A study of the 1961 class showed only 25 per cent of the graduates entered college, he explained.

Senior boys attended a guidance discussion and saw a film on the use of electronic technicians in the space age yesterday.

Two representatives from DeVry Technical Institute of Chicago conducted the program.

Roller Quake Rocks Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An earthquake, described as a roller that lasted about 20 seconds, shook a wide area of southern California early today.

The fastest fish in the world is generally conceded to be the sailfish, which has been clocked as high as 70 miles an hour.

Sand Slag Dries Oozing Seal Coat

The surfaces of East Liverpool blacktop streets sealcoated last fall were dried up Thursday with tons of powdery "sand slag" applied by the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry, the contractor.

Tri-State provided the material and labor at no expense to the city after warm weather caused the seal coat material to "bleed," turning it into the oozing, slippery mess that clung to auto tires and pedestrians' shoes.

The trouble first was noted last fall, shortly after the seal coat had been applied. Although denying the trouble resulted from any fault of the application, Tri-State agreed to take the corrective steps, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said.

Dusting with the sand slag was the outgrowth of an investigation that started last year when the streets began to "bleed." Cold winter weather halted it temporarily, but the material began to ooze again in last weekend's warm weather and grew progressively worse.

First reports said the plane's landing gear had collapsed, but Love Field officials later said no.

"There was nothing to it. The plane was taxiing about three miles an hour and the pilot decided to test the brakes."

The Sports Bench

'When It Rains It Pours' . . .

As a slogan reads, "When It Rains, It Pours."

That particular slogan refers to salt, but it also could refer to bad luck turning up in different forms at the same time.

Jack Bair, East Liverpool's new baseball coach, was a victim of some Wednesday at Steubenville.

His Potters were leading, 2-1, going into Steubenville's half of the fourth inning, then everything broke loose.

While Big Red was sending 11 batters to the plate and runners were crossing the plate at a rapid pace for a five-run inning, a young Steubenville High School girl was showing her finesse behind the steering wheel of a car in a nearby parking lot.

The young lady, thinking she had put the automatic shift into forward drive position, accidentally slipped it into reverse.

She, of course, backed up, zoomed across the parking lot and ran right smack into the side of Bair's car, crushing the door and one side of his automobile.

Oh yes, the Potters lost the game too, by a score of 10-2.

Dickey Pitching For Army Team . . .

JIM DICKEY, Now Pvt. Dickey of Uncle Sam's Army who burned up the City League here and had a short fling of minor league ball with a team in the Minnesota chain, is hurling now for the 3rd Armored Division in Frankfort, Germany.

At this early date his hitting is outshining his pitching. He did hurl three scoreless innings in his first start, but also smacked a two-run homer, which was the difference in his team's 7-5 victory.

The former Ohio Wesleyan star will be in the "special services" branch for the remainder of the summer. The 3rd Armored Division played in Paris last week and has trips planned to Holland and Spain to meet other Army teams.

About his hitting, Dickey said, "I don't know where all my power is coming from, I guess it's that good(?) Army chow."

Twins Invade Cleveland . . .

BERNIE Allen and his Minnesota teammates invade Cleveland tonight for a four-game engagement.

Many local followers, including yours truly, are planning to watch the hometown boy in action.

If nothing else, Allen, who is beginning to see daylight now as far as the hitting goes, has established himself as an extra-base hitter.

In the short time he has been up, Bernie has a home run, two triples and shows a double to his credit. His average is around the .200 mark now, and going up.

Defensively, Allen has played almost flawless baseball.

We plan to talk to Bernie while we're in Cleveland this weekend and find out what the East Liverpool lad's feelings are about the big show.

Allen did not play in Thursday night's game with the Orioles in which the Twins won, 3-2. He had been taken out in the seventh inning of Wednesday's game because he has been nursing a cold and a case of the flu for the last couple of days. Allen was replaced by Jim Snyder.

He should be ready to open the series in Cleveland tonight.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

CREDIT midshipman Craig Burbick with a hole-in-one. The outstanding golfer, No. 1 man on Navy's golf team, fired an ace last week on a par 3 hole at Annapolis during a qualifying match.

Burbick was at his best again last Saturday when he led Navy to a one-sided victory over the Pitt golf team.

VINCE MARA Jr., who has served as an official at Waterford Park since 1958, will return for the summer race meeting as assistant racing secretary under Harry R. Bell.

LARRY BRUNO, who has been about as successful as anyone could be when it comes to coaching football, will be guest speaker at the Beaver Local High School All-Sports banquet next Wednesday night.

Whether Bruno will perform any tricks Wednesday we don't know. In addition to giving after dinner speeches, Larry is also an amateur magician. And a good one too, we understand.

The Beaver Falls coach, who is a native of East Liverpool, has had two undefeated football teams at Beaver Falls and won the WPIAL championship in 1960.

Midland's Krause Wins On 1-Hitter

Righthander Chuck Krause was at his best Thursday afternoon when he allowed South Side only one hit in pitching Midland to a 4-0 Section victory on the Midland diamond.

Krause didn't allow a hit until two were out in the fifth inning and then John Mackall hit a ground ball single to rightfield to spoil the no-hitter.

Krause only struck out two, but had ample support in the field from his teammates. The junior hurler gave up three walks.

The Leopards, in posting their third win in five Section outings, took advantage of four South Side errors for three unearned runs.

Trimble held Midland scoreless until the fourth inning when Tom Troup singled, went to second on an error and scored on another error.

Midland put the contest on ice with a three-run fifth inning. The only earned run scored by Midland came in the fifth when Troup doubled and Krause helped his own cause by blasting a triple to drive in the run.

Midland travels to Hopewell for another Section battle Monday afternoon.

Detroit Wins, But Loses Ace Lary

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers may be in trouble. Frank Lary is. And it follows that if Lary is in trouble the Tiger situation is less than the best.

"He'll be out a week as far as we can tell right now," Tiger trainer Jack Homel said Thursday after the Detroit pitching ace failed to last two innings as the Tigers beat Kansas City 11-7.

Lary, who won 23 games with the Tigers last season and has a life-long habit of beating the New York Yankees, retired with an inflamed shoulder after allowing the A's a single run in the first and four in the second.

The Tigers, however, roared back with a seven-run seventh inning to post their triumph. Cleveland took the Los Angeles Angels 6-4, Boston edged Washington 8-7 and Minnesota got past Baltimore 3-2 in the others. The Chicago White Sox and New York were not scheduled.

Lary's shoulder first started to bother him early in spring training and he was ineffective in Florida. The pain went away just before the season started, but he had a relapse last Saturday when he was beaten by Boston.

Hank Aguirre (1-0), last of three Detroit pitchers, benefitted by the big seventh inning uprising and stopped the A's on one hit over the last four innings. The Tigers trailed 7-4 going into the seventh but sent 11 batters to the plate, and seven hit safely.

Manny Jiminez cracked two homers for Kansas City and Bobby Del Greco one. Toothpick Sam Jones, who relieved Lary in the second, hit the first homer of his long career in the second.

Cleveland retained first place with its come-from-behind victory over the Angels. Willie Kirkland's two-run single in the seventh brought the Indians from behind a 4-3 deficit. Rookie Sam McDowell (1-0), won in relief, while Ryne Duren (1-2) was the loser.

Camilo Pascual (3-1) was tough when he had to be, stranding nine runners and striking out seven, in going the distance the third time this season for the Twins' triumph over Baltimore. A two-base error, singles by Bob Allison, Earl Battey and Pascual put the Twins out in front 2-0 in the second and they took it from there. Gus Triandos hit his fourth homer of the year for the Orioles.

Lou Clinton's two-out pinch-hit single in the eighth drove in the winning run for Boston in a wild game with the Senators that produced 26 hits, 17 walks and 29 men left on base. Clinton's hit drove in Carroll Hardy and broke a 7-7 tie that had existed since the fourth inning. Chuck Cottier's three-run double in the third was Washington's big hit.

'To Keep Us On Top'

An Extra Starting Hurler Would Help, McGaha Says

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are leading the American League today, but they've been up there and back before.

The thing they need to stay there, they suspect, is one of the few commodities rarer than fur-bearing fish—an extra starting pitcher.

"If we could get another one in trade," said Manager Mel McGaha, "we'd sure grab him. And we'd be willing to give up something good in return."

The Indians figure they strengthened themselves by acquiring right-handers Dick Donovan and Pedro Ramos. And right-hander Jim Grant, whom they lost in a special draft conducted to fortify the roster of the U.S. Army, should rejoin them by July.

In addition, they've got Gary Bell, Barry Latman, Jim Perry and rookie Ron Taylor, among others.

With a staff like this, McGaha was asked, why look for more?

"Well," he said, "when it comes to pitchers I think like my general manager, Gabe Paul. And he says he'll still be looking for a starting pitcher when he dies."

The Indians had no luck with their starter Thursday, but still won the odd game of their series with the Los Angeles Angels 6-4. The Angels chased Bell in the third inning, but 19-year-old Sam McDowell stepped in and retired 12 batters in order before walking two in the seventh. Then Latman came on and stopped the Angels on two hits the last 2 1-3 innings.

The Indians had gone ahead 3-2 in the third, getting three runs on doubles by Ty Cline and Al-Luplow, singles by John Romano and Woodie Held and a sacrifice fly by Tito Francona.

But the Angels scored twice off Bell in the third on four singles and were still in command 4-3 after the sixth. Then, in the top of the seventh, Ryne Duren and Joe Nuxhall walked the bases loaded and Willie Kirkland got his first hit in 10 at-bats—a decisive two-run single. A single by Held brought in the sixth Cleveland run in the same inning.

Penn Relays Get Underway Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Penn Relays opened today with Michigan defending its four-mile title, Yale trying to make it two straight in the distance medley and Villanova desperately trying to put together a mile quartet.

The mile is scheduled as the closing event of the big carnival, which has attracted 645 high schools and colleges, Saturday. Villanova has won it seven years running, but the Wildcats' string appears ready to run out.

Their leadoff man, Carl Wagner, is on the shelf with a pull. Last week in the Queens-Iona Relays, Charlie Hammock, a hurdler, filled in. Now he has come up with a pull.

6 Women Entered

Six members of the Hoffman's Plumbing team will bowl in the women's State Tournament at Springfield Saturday and Sunday.

The team includes Sara Purton, Mildred Vordran, Sylvia Firestone, June McVay, Glenda Simms and Ann Creaturo.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Bob Gibson, Cardinals, beat Houston 3-2 with two-hitter, holding Colts hitless for seven innings before Roman Mejias homered leading off the eighth.

Batting — Tommie Aaron, Braves, hit single, triple and homer, driving in four runs and scoring three himself in 10-4 triumph over Philadelphia.

'When It Rains It Pours' . . .

As a slogan reads, "When It Rains, It Pours."

That particular slogan refers to salt, but it also could refer to bad luck turning up in different forms at the same time.

Jack Bair, East Liverpool's new baseball coach, was a victim of some Wednesday at Steubenville.

His Potters were leading, 2-1, going into Steubenville's half of the fourth inning, then everything broke loose.

While Big Red was sending 11 batters to the plate and runners were crossing the plate at a rapid pace for a five-run inning, a young Steubenville High School girl was showing her finesse behind the steering wheel of a car in a nearby parking lot.

The young lady, thinking she had put the automatic shift into forward drive position, accidentally slipped it into reverse.

She, of course, backed up, zoomed across the parking lot and ran right smack into the side of Bair's car, crushing the door and one side of his automobile.

Oh yes, the Potters lost the game too, by a score of 10-2.

Dickey Pitching For Army Team . . .

JIM DICKEY, Now Pvt. Dickey of Uncle Sam's Army who burned up the City League here and had a short fling of minor league ball with a team in the Minnesota chain, is hurling now for the 3rd Armored Division in Frankfort, Germany.

At this early date his hitting is outshining his pitching. He did hurl three scoreless innings in his first start, but also smacked a two-run homer, which was the difference in his team's 7-5 victory.

The former Ohio Wesleyan star will be in the "special services" branch for the remainder of the summer. The 3rd Armored Division played in Paris last week and has trips planned to Holland and Spain to meet other Army teams.

About his hitting, Dickey said, "I don't know where all my power is coming from, I guess it's that good(?) Army chow."

Twins Invade Cleveland . . .

BERNIE Allen and his Minnesota teammates invade Cleveland tonight for a four-game engagement.

Many local followers, including yours truly, are planning to watch the hometown boy in action.

If nothing else, Allen, who is beginning to see daylight now as far as the hitting goes, has established himself as an extra-base hitter.

In the short time he has been up, Bernie has a home run, two triples and shows a double to his credit. His average is around the .200 mark now, and going up.

Defensively, Allen has played almost flawless baseball.

We plan to talk to Bernie while we're in Cleveland this weekend and find out what the East Liverpool lad's feelings are about the big show.

Allen did not play in Thursday night's game with the Orioles in which the Twins won, 3-2. He had been taken out in the seventh inning of Wednesday's game because he has been nursing a cold and a case of the flu for the last couple of days. Allen was replaced by Jim Snyder.

He should be ready to open the series in Cleveland tonight.

Midland's Krause Wins On 1-Hitter

Righthander Chuck Krause was at his best Thursday afternoon when he allowed South Side only one hit in pitching Midland to a 4-0 Section victory on the Midland diamond.

Krause didn't allow a hit until two were out in the fifth inning and then John Mackall hit a ground ball single to rightfield to spoil the no-hitter.

Krause only struck out two, but had ample support in the field from his teammates. The junior hurler gave up three walks.

The Leopards, in posting their third win in five Section outings, took advantage of four South Side errors for three unearned runs.

Trimble held Midland scoreless until the fourth inning when Tom Troup singled, went to second on an error and scored on another error.

Midland put the contest on ice with a three-run fifth inning. The only earned run scored by Midland came in the fifth when Troup doubled and Krause helped his own cause by blasting a triple to drive in the run.

Midland travels to Hopewell for another Section battle Monday afternoon.

Detroit Wins, But Loses Ace Lary

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers may be in trouble. Frank Lary is. And it follows that if Lary is in trouble the Tiger situation is less than the best.

"He'll be out a week as far as we can tell right now," Tiger trainer Jack Homel said Thursday after the Detroit pitching ace failed to last two innings as the Tigers beat Kansas City 11-7.

Lary, who won 23 games with the Tigers last season and has a life-long habit of beating the New York Yankees, retired with an inflamed shoulder after allowing the A's a single run in the first and four in the second.

The Tigers, however, roared back with a seven-run seventh inning to post their triumph. Cleveland took the Los Angeles Angels 6-4, Boston edged Washington 8-7 and Minnesota got past Baltimore 3-2 in the others. The Chicago White Sox and New York were not scheduled.

Lary's shoulder first started to bother him early in spring training and he was ineffective in Florida. The pain went away just before the season started, but he had a relapse last Saturday when he was beaten by Boston.

Hank Aguirre (1-0), last of three Detroit pitchers, benefitted by the big seventh inning uprising and stopped the A's on one hit over the last four innings. The Tigers trailed 7-4 going into the seventh but sent 11 batters to the plate, and seven hit safely.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1962 PAGE 14

Manny Jiminez cracked two homers for Kansas City and Bobby Del Greco one. Toothpick Sam Jones, who relieved Lary in the second, hit the first homer of his long career in the second.

Cleveland retained first place with its come-from-behind victory over the Angels. Willie Kirkland's two-run single in the seventh brought the Indians from behind a 4-3 deficit. Rookie Sam McDowell (1-0), won in relief, while Ryne Duren (1-2) was the loser.

Camilo Pascual (3-1) was tough when he had to be, stranding nine runners and striking out seven, in going the distance the third time this season for the Twins' triumph over Baltimore. A two-base error, singles by Bob Allison, Earl Battey and Pascual put the Twins out in front 2-0 in the second and they took it from there. Gus Triandos hit his fourth homer of the year for the Orioles.

Lou Clinton's two-out pinch-hit single in the eighth drove in the winning run for Boston in a wild game with the Senators that produced 26 hits, 17 walks and 29 men left on base. Clinton's hit drove in Carroll Hardy and broke a 7-7 tie that had existed since the fourth inning. Chuck Cottier's three-run double in the third was Washington's big hit.

An Extra Starting Hurler Would Help, McGaha Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are leading the American League today, but they've been up there and back before.

Then, in the top of the seventh, Ryne Duren and Joe Nuxhall walked the bases loaded and Willie Kirkland got his first hit in 10 at-bats—a decisive two-run single. A single by Held brought in the sixth Cleveland run in the same inning.

Hank Aaron's Younger Brother Sparks Braves' Win

Gets 3 Hits, 4 RBI's In 1-Man Show

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Imagine a king-size Hank Aaron —that's younger brother Tommie.

While Hammerin' Hank continued his efforts to shake a slump, Tommie drilled a single, triple and homer, drove in four runs and scored three himself in a standout one-man show that led Milwaukee to a 10-4 triumph over Philadelphia Thursday.

It gave Tommie, 22, a 6-for-17 batting record and a .353 average in his bid to grab a regular berth alongside Hank, 28, bogged down at .224 with 11 hits in 49 at-bats. Hank was 1-for-3 against the Phils.

Willie and Tommy Davis—no relation—each stroked three hits in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 12-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis' Bob Gibson lost his no-hitter in the eighth inning but wound up with a two-hitter as the Cards edged Houston 3-2 in the only other game scheduled.

The Braves put it out of reach in the fourth inning, striking for four runs — three on Tommy Aaron's homer. That gave Bob Hendley (2-1) all the working room he needed, although Hank Fischer came on to finish up when Hendley tired in the eighth. Phils' starter Jack Hamilton (1-2) was the loser.

Willie Davis hit consecutive homers in the sixth and seventh innings and got home run support from Frank Howard and Daryl Spencer as the Dodgers blasted Cubs' starter Dick Ellsworth (2-1) and three successors for 14 hits. Tommy Davis had a single, double and triple. Ron Perranoski (1-0) picked up the victory in relief.

Gibson had his no-hitter broken when Roman Mejias hit the first pitch in the eighth inning for a homer. One out later Al Heist singled for the only other hit off the Cardinal right-hander, who had lost in his only previous decision this year. Gibson had allowed a run in the second when Jim Pendleton walked, moved to third on two infield outs and scored on a wild pitch.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, got single runs off Ken Johnson (0-3) in the fourth and seventh, then scored what turned out to be the winner in the eighth when Stan Musial singled in Curt Flood.

Ours Honored In 2 Sports At Wellsville Omni Fete

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

They say that size (or rather the lack of it) doesn't mean everything in scholastic sports and Roger Ours of Wellsville High qualifies as a good example.

Ours, 5-8, 150-pounder, carried off the two major awards for outstanding accomplishments in football and basketball at the All-Sports banquet for the Tigers Thursday night.

A panel of coaches selected Ours as the most outstanding senior in both major sports for 1961-62, adding a crowning touch to a standout career that began when he made the varsity as a sophomore.

—:—

OURS also captured a third for compiling the best foul shooting percentage on the Tiger basketball squad the past season.

Ours, who never played on a losing football team as a regular, got a solid round of applause from a crowd of 125 upon receiving the Omni Orange and Black Booster Club's top awards at a banquet in the Covenant United Presbyterian Church.

Ours says he will shun football scholarship offers from Dartmouth and West Virginia, and a baseball offer from Bowling Green, to study mechanical drawing and drafting at a specialty school in Chicago.

As regular quarterback for three years, he completed almost 50 per cent of his passes and played a steady defensive game. In basketball, he excelled as a playmaker and found time to score 252 points last season when the Tigers won nine and lost 11. He's also an accomplished pitcher and third baseman in baseball.

Three other football players also won awards.

RUGGED Mike Thompson, 180-pound lineman, received the Knights of Columbus trophy as the best senior defensive player.

Johnny Euill, hard-running fullback who gained 600 yards in 127 attempts last season and is bound for Ohio University this fall on a scholarship, won the award as best senior offensive player from the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce. Euill is president of the senior class.

The award for "most improved player," donated by Wellsville volunteer firemen, was presented Earl (Wizzer) Wizor, husky junior guard who was the key in several goal line stands of Coach Ken Woods' eleven last fall.

Five athletes received ceramic orange and black W's from Charles Stone, vice president of the Omni Club, for performing with the football, basketball and track squads. The recipients were Euill, Frank Luckino, Andy Dash, Mark Leyda and Jack Cataldo.

—:—

AWARDS for the track squad will be presented after the season is concluded, Coach Woods announced, adding Euill, Luckino and Larry Giles are leading candidates for the high-scoring senior.

Basketball Coach Jack McDevitt will award letters at a school assembly. He introduced three seniors from this year's team, Ours, Luckino and Euill, and also reserve coach Chick McMillan.

Halfback Alvin Thompson and tackle Mike Welch were introduced as captains of next year's football team.

Filling in the athletes on the formula for success both in life and on the playing field was William Clarke Hinkle of Toronto.

—:—

HINKLE, appearing almost as fit and trim (208 pounds) as when he starred at fullback for the Green Bay Packers, discussed the interesting points of a distinguished football career.

Recapitulating his playing years with the Packers (1932-1941), Hinkle revealed the first time he tried to tackle the great Bronko Nagurski the result was seven stitches in the face.

Hinkle later got even, however, in knocking the bruising Chicago Bear fullback unconscious on the sidelines, becoming the only player ever to earn the dubious distinction.

Hinkle led the professional league in scoring in 1938 with 58 points, and earned all-pro fullback honors in 1936, 1937, 1938 and again in 1941.

—:—

THE FORMER Bucknell University star has been enshrined in the Helms Hall of Fame. He's now a salesman for Republic Powdered Metals of Cleveland.

Citing the merits in sports, Hinkle declared athletes are taught to "get along with people, make decisions, gain emotional stability and learn discipline."

"Desire is the key, however, and you must have a goal if you want to make it where you want to go," Hinkle declared.

Hinkle pointed out he set his goal to be an All-America football player as a youngster while watching the Toronto Tigers, who listed Earl (Goose) Mundy of Wellsville.

Mayor W. W. Daugherty was master of ceremonies and added humor to the program. Among many guests introduced were Earl Bake, president of the Board of Education, and Lowell B. Myers, the new superintendent of schools.

Beaver Local Errors Help Potters To Easy 16-4 Win

East Liverpool High's baseball squad had its hitting clothes on Thursday and also took advantage of 13 errors to rip Beaver Local, 16-4, at the Beaver Local diamond.

The victory gave the Potters their third win in five outings.

Coach Jack Bair's nine posted six runs in the first inning and six more in the second frame to pretty well put the game out of reach.

The Potters banged out 14 hits, including three each by second baseman Mike Agnew and first baseman Vince McKinnon. McKinnon almost hit for the cycle as he collected a single, double and triple. Agnew had a pair of singles and a two bagger. Butch Mathias and Frank McComas each chipped in with two hits while Dean Cline blasted a triple.

Eddie Six was the winning pitcher again, allowing Beaver Local six hits and striking out nine.

Beaver Local scored two runs in the first inning when freshman Dennis Horger blasted a home run with a teammate on base.

Beaver Local now with a 3-2 record is scheduled to play host to Salineville this afternoon.

Injured Race Driver Now Semiconscious

LONDON (AP)—Stirling Moss—after nearly four days in a deep but lessening coma—was reported today semiconscious and trying to talk to his doctors.

A hospital spokesman said the auto racing ace was continuing to make progress in his recovery from severe injuries, suffered in a crash Monday at the Goodwood track.

Late Models, Amateurs At Canfield

Jim Bickerstaff of Mineral Ridge will be the driver to beat when the late models and amateurs open their 1962 stock car racing season at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

Driving a 1958 Ford, Bickerstaff has started the season with a rush, winning two feature events in the late model circuit. Last year Bickerstaff won three feature events at Canfield and he will be hoping to get off on the right track.

However, Jim will meet more competition at Canfield than he has before. Bill Forney of Youngstown will be in the lineup in a 1957 Chevrolet. Forney won both the Canfield and MARC national late model titles in 1961.

Another top entry is the hard-driving Bob James of Akron. James phoned Canfield officials that he was ready to go and had a 1958 Ford in top condition.

Ed Mitchell of Warren also will be on hand. Mitchell sat out most of last season, but he has a 1959 Dodge and promises to give everyone a rough time.

Several pilots have moved up from the amateur class and a huge field of late models is expected. Among the top amateurs are Phil Wertz of Canfield, the 1961 amateur king; Dick Shasteen of Salem who has taken over Rabbi Hippley's convertible, and Paul Kerr of Youngstown, who made the change late in the 1961 season. Kerr has a 1956 Chevrolet under repair for Canfield's big opener Saturday night.

The amateur class will be wide open this year. Mason Heistor will be back, along with Ken Russell of Youngstown, Tom Jackamo of Youngstown, Jim Metlicka of Warren, George Potter of Niles and many others.

A host of new drivers will provide a huge field of cars and fans are bound to see more action at Canfield than they have ever seen before. Time trials are at 7 and first race at 8:30 p. m.

Texas Open Is Tied Up

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A couple of fellows who haven't been winning much lately—Bill Collins and Bob Shave Jr.—led the $30,000 Texas Open today but the ominous shadow of Arnold Palmer was there to give them the jitters.

Shave, a 25-year-old from Willoughby, Ohio, and Collins, a veteran who was a big winner in 1960 but hasn't been doing much since, shot five-under-par 66's Thursday to take the first round lead. Palmer had a 67 and produced the most news because of it.

Hank Aaron's Younger Brother Sparks Braves' Win

Gets 3 Hits, 4 RBI's In 1-Man Show

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Imagine a king-size Hank Aaron —that's younger brother Tommie.

While Hammerin' Hank continued his efforts to shake a slump, Tommie drilled a single, triple and homer, drove in four runs and scored three himself in a standout one-man show that led Milwaukee to a 10-4 triumph over Philadelphia Thursday.

It gave Tommie, 22, a 6-for-17 batting record and a .353 average in his bid to grab a regular berth alongside Hank, 28, bogged down at .224 with 11 hits in 49 at-bats. Hank was 1-for-3 against the Phils.

Willie and Tommy Davis—no relation—each stroked three hits in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 12-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis' Bob Gibson lost his no-hitter in the eighth inning but wound up with a two-hitter as the Cards edged Houston 3-2 in the only other game scheduled.

The Braves put it out of reach in the fourth inning, striking for four runs — three on Tommy Aaron's homer. That gave Bob Hendley (2-1) all the working room he needed, although Hank Fischer came on to finish up when Hendley tired in the eighth. Phils' starter Jack Hamilton (1-2) was the loser.

Willie Davis hit consecutive homers in the sixth and seventh innings and got home run support from Frank Howard and Daryl Spencer as the Dodgers blasted Cubs' starter Dick Ellsworth (2-1) and three successors for 14 hits. Tommy Davis had a single, double and triple. Ron Perranoski (1-0) picked up the victory in relief.

Gibson had his no-hitter broken when Roman Mejias hit the first pitch in the eighth inning for a homer. One out later Al Heist singled for the only other hit off the Cardinal right-hander, who had lost in his only previous decision this year. Gibson had allowed a run in the second when Jim Pendleton walked, moved to third on two infield outs and scored on a wild pitch.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, got single runs off Ken Johnson (0-3) in the fourth and seventh, then scored what turned out to be the winner in the eighth when Stan Musial singled in Curt Flood.

IBOP To Air Limit On Talk At Convention

Five more resolutions have been presented for action at the annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters — including one to limit the number of speakers and the length of their talks.

One of the proposals due for action when the convention meets July 16 in San Francisco, it was filed by Local 192 of Sebring. The resolution asserts:

"A lot of time is taken up by speakers at conventions every year; therefore, be it resolved, that the number of speakers and time of speaking be cut down and a definite program of education be set up by the Executive Board..."

The other four new resolutions were introduced by Local 86, warehousemen, of East Liverpool.

One would remove the limit of $35 a week now placed on outside earnings of members drawing strike pay. Another would allow a local to employ professional counsel if it is on trial before the Executive Board.

The third would alter the definition of those who are retired and unemployed for entitlement to a $500 death benefit. Another would grant certain exemptions on dues for members who are on the sick list or unemployed.

Meanwhile, the IBOP announced resolutions to international headlocals have until May 15 to submit quarters for convention action. The date last week was announced incorrectly as May 1, the union explained.

Top Union Officers To Convene Monday

The IBOP Executive Board will open a three-day session Monday — its first full-scale meeting in the new headquarters building on Route 7.

Comprised of the 12 top international officers, the board will face an agenda that includes "pending cases, wage conferences and other constitutional policies and requirements," the IBOP said. E. L. Wheatley, president, will preside.

Wellsville Club To Hear Gosney

Don Gosney, county chairman, will be the principal speaker for the meeting of the Wellsville Women's Democratic Club Monday night at 8 in the Carnegie Library, open to the Wellsville progressive Democratic Club members and the public.

Gosney is seeking re-election for 18th District Central committeeman. Others speaking will be county Auditor Kenneth Bell and County Commissioner Frank Wilson, also seeking re-election, Larry Stacey, candidate for state representative.

Dominick Cuti, city chairman, will introduce the speakers and Mrs. Kay Drago, president of the women's organization, will preside. Mrs. Connie Drago, chairman of the ways and means committee, will give a report of a recent bake sale.

Lunch will be served by Miss Betty Dunn, Mrs. Grace Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Givens and Mrs. Donna Lowe. An executive meeting will be held tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Kay Drago, president, on Broadway.

Police, FBI Hunt Man In Cincinnati Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police and FBI agents today sought a good-looking-smooth - talking gunman who robbed the Eagle Savings and Loan Association of $6,052.

The robber entered the loan firm at the Kenwood shopping center Thursday while only employes were there. After ordering a teller to give him all the money, he herded four employes to a rear room and left. A customer who walked in at that moment was also told to join the others.

Tax May Exceed Expected Return By Half Million

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's new income tax probably will equal and perhaps exceed by a half-million dollars the $18,750,000 in revenue that was expected of it.

State Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty Jr. said Thursday, "I would not be surprised if we exceed budget estimates by a half-million dollars."

"The $18,750,000 advance estimate was made for the five quarters started Jan. 1, 1961.

"It is impossible to give a precise figure," Hardesty added, "because approximately 50 per cent of the returns were not filed until April 15."

Hardesty also expressed the belief that the consumers sales tax would bring in $500,000 more than the estimated $32,270,000, but said gross sales tax collections were off $1.5 million.

Ted Kennedy Raps Talk Of Withdrawal

BOSTON (AP) — A report—quickly denied—that Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, "may be considering" withdrawal from the U.S. Senate nomination race, has turned up the heat in the battle between the Kennedys and the McCormacks.

Young Kennedy scoffed at the report, adding he had "extremely encouraging response from delegates throughout the state." He expressed confidence Thursday night of winning the Democratic nomination and the election.

His major opponent, Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, took note of the report with a statement also expressing confidence in victory.

The report was given statewide distribution by Boston radio station WBZ, which identified the source only as "close to the Kennedy camp."

The broadcast said "Ted conferred with his brother, the President, at Palm Beach this week and may drop out rather than face what appears to be sure defeat at the state Democratic convention at Springfield in June."

IBOP To Air Limit On Talk At Convention

Five more resolutions have been presented for action at the annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters — including one to limit the number of speakers and the length of their talks.

One of the proposals due for action when the convention meets July 16 in San Francisco, it was filed by Local 192 of Sebring. The resolution asserts:

"A lot of time is taken up by speakers at conventions every year; therefore, be it resolved, that the number of speakers and time of speaking be cut down and a definite program of education be set up by the Executive Board..."

The other four new resolutions were introduced by Local 86, warehousemen, of East Liverpool.

One would remove the limit of $35 a week now placed on outside earnings of members drawing strike pay. Another would allow a local to employ professional counsel if it is on trial before the Executive Board.

The third would alter the definition of those who are retired and unemployed for entitlement to a $500 death benefit. Another would grant certain exemptions on dues for members who are on the sick list or unemployed.

Meanwhile, the IBOP announced resolutions to international headlocals have until May 15 to submit quarters for convention action. The date last week was announced incorrectly as May 1, the union explained.

Top Union Officers To Convene Monday

The IBOP Executive Board will open a three-day session Monday — its first full-scale meeting in the new headquarters building on Route 7.

Comprised of the 12 top international officers, the board will face an agenda that includes "pending cases, wage conferences and other constitutional policies and requirements," the IBOP said. E. L. Wheatley, president, will preside.

Wellsville Club To Hear Gosney

Don Gosney, county chairman, will be the principal speaker for the meeting of the Wellsville Women's Democratic Club Monday night at 8 in the Carnegie Library, open to the Wellsville progressive Democratic Club members and the public.

Gosney is seeking re-election for 18th District Central committeeman. Others speaking will be county Auditor Kenneth Bell and County Commissioner Frank Wilson, also seeking re-election, Larry Stacey, candidate for state representative.

Dominick Cuti, city chairman, will introduce the speakers and Mrs. Kay Drago, president of the women's organization, will preside. Mrs. Connie Drago, chairman of the ways and means committee, will give a report of a recent bake sale.

Lunch will be served by Miss Betty Dunn, Mrs. Grace Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Givens and Mrs. Donna Lowe. An executive meeting will be held tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Kay Drago, president, on Broadway.

Police, FBI Hunt Man In Cincinnati Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police and FBI agents today sought a good-looking-smooth - talking gunman who robbed the Eagle Savings and Loan Association of $6,052.

The robber entered the loan firm at the Kenwood shopping center Thursday while only employes were there. After ordering a teller to give him all the money, he herded four employes to a rear room and left. A customer who walked in at that moment was also told to join the others.

21 Immunized

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health Department gave 21 immunizations, 15 vaccinations and 18 polio shots at the second-round pre-school clinic Wednesday at United Local School, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Tax May Exceed Expected Return By Half Million

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's new income tax probably will equal and perhaps exceed by a half-million dollars the $18,750,000 in revenue that was expected of it.

State Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty Jr. said Thursday, "I would not be surprised if we exceed budget estimates by a half-million dollars."

"The $18,750,000 advance estimate was made for the five quarters started Jan. 1, 1961.

"It is impossible to give a precise figure," Hardesty added, "because approximately 50 per cent of the returns were not filed until April 15."

Hardesty also expressed the belief that the consumers sales tax would bring in $500,000 more than the estimated $32,270,000, but said gross sales tax collections were off $1.5 million.

Ted Kennedy Raps Talk Of Withdrawal

BOSTON (AP) — A report —quickly denied—that Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, "may be considering" withdrawal from the U.S. Senate nomination race, has turned up the heat in the battle between the Kennedys and the McCormacks.

Young Kennedy scoffed at the report, adding he had "extremely encouraging response from delegates throughout the state." He expressed confidence Thursday night of winning the Democratic nomination and the election.

His major opponent, Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, took note of the report with a statement also expressing confidence in victory.

The report was given statewide distribution by Boston radio station WBZ, which identified the source only as "close to the Kennedy camp."

The broadcast said "Ted conferred with his brother, the President, at Palm Beach this week and may drop out rather than face what appears to be sure defeat at the state Democratic convention at Springfield in June."

Weiss Makes Changes To Bolster Shabby Mets

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It is becoming increasingly evident that the embryo Houston Colts have corraled a better team than the floundering outfit representing New York in the National League.

The younger and more energetic Colts have been galloping at a leisurely pace, winning six and tying one of their 13 games.

No so with the Mets. Eleven defeats in 12 games have revealed Casey Stengel's crew to be just what it is—not much of a team.

The Mets are a sadly conceived aggregation of tired castoffs who can't play any more, and unproven youngsters who can't play at all.

The pitching has been horrible, the fielding wretched and the hitting spotty, to say the least. Injuries to Gil Hodges, Hobie Landrith, Charlie Neal and Elio Chacon haven't helped.

Although insisting it is too early to become panicky, club president George Weiss is making adjustments.

The most notable of his new acquisitions appears to be Sammy Taylor, a 29-year-old left-handed hitting catcher, acquired from the Cubs Thursday in exchange for outfielder Bobby Gen Smith. The Mets also acquired catcher Harry Chiti, purchased from Cleveland, and 34-year-old pitcher Dave Hillman, bought from the Cincinnati Reds.

To make room, veteran relief pitcher Clem Labine and catcher Joe Ginsberg were dropped.

Judge To Weigh Arguments In Pro Grid Feud

BALTIMORE (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Roszel C. Thomsen today started tackling the weighty problem of whether the National Football League was powerful enough —and intentionally tried—to kill off a rival.

The judge said it may take two months for him to wade through volumes of testimony, arguments and briefs on a $10-million antitrust suit by the American Football League against the NFL.

Oral arguments ended Thursday. They had been going on intermittently since Feb. 26.

The gist of the AFL claim was that the NFL expanded from 12 to 14 teams only as countermeasures to the new loop in 1960. The NFL granted a franchise to Dallas where the AFL was formed and at the same time announced it would activate another in Minneapolis-St. Paul the next season.

Midland Police Take Over 3rd Place In League

Midland police took over third place in the Beaver Valley Police Revolver League after defeating Beaver Falls police 1,398 to 1,387 in a shoot off Thursday night at the Jones Laughlin range at Aliquippa.

Patrolman Mike Borato, team captain, reported that Midland Patrolman Eli Bratich, with a score of 285, is the third highest in the entire league.

Borato said the league's banquet will be May 23 at the Midland Serbian National Home.

5 Share First Place In Women's Golf Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Judy Kimball, a professional golfer for less than two years, owned one-fifth of first place today in the Women's Titleholders Tournament after a round of scrambling.

The 23-year-old Sioux City, Iowa, lassie missed 12 greens Thursday on the 6,880-yard Augusta Country Club course, but shot a 73.

Tied with Miss Kimball were defending champion Mickey Wright, Betsy Rawls, Barbara Romack and Jo Ann Prentice.

Drake Relays Set For Start Today

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Ex-Marine John Uelses' try to pole-vault back into 16-foot orbit and another major track raid by little Texas Southern were on the agenda as the 53rd Drake Relays got under-way today.

Finals in five individual and three relays events were on the opening program for this two-day cinder carnival in which some 800 athletes from 85 universities and colleges cavort in Drake University's compact bowl.

In the spotlight today was Uelses, who hasn't vaulted 16 feet for a whole month.

Texas Southern, the amazing all-Negro squad from Houston, already has captured five titles in the Texas Relays and six in last weekend's Kansas Relays.

Texas Southern was entered in six Drake baton events.

Patton, Manley Near Another Golf Clash

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., and Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., a couple of lumbermangolfers who engaged in a memorable finals battle 11 years ago, were one step away from another North and South Amateur Golf Tournament showdown today.

Each was confronted by a determined rival in today's 18-hole semifinals. Patton took on Dr. Edward Updegraff, jut-jawed urologist from Tucson, Ariz. Manley, who is 35, met Dale Morey, who moved from Indiana to Patton's hometown a few years ago because of business reasons.

Weiss Makes Changes To Bolster Shabby Mets

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It is becoming increasingly evident that the embryo Houston Colts have corraled a better team than the floundering outfit representing New York in the National League.

The younger and more energetic Colts have been galloping at a leisurely pace, winning six and tying one of their 13 games.

No so with the Mets. Eleven defeats in 12 games have revealed Casey Stengel's crew to be just what it is—not much of a team.

The Mets are a sadly conceived aggregation of tired castoffs who can't play any more, and unproven youngsters who can't play at all.

The pitching has been horrible, the fielding wretched and the hitting spotty, to say the least. Injuries to Gil Hodges, Hobie Landrith, Charlie Neal and Elio Chacon haven't helped.

Although insisting it is too early to become panicky, club president George Weiss is making adjustments.

The most notable of his new acquisitions appears to be Sammy Taylor, a 29-year-old left-handed hitting catcher, acquired from the Cubs Thursday in exchange for outfielder Bobby Gen Smith. The Mets also acquired catcher Harry Chiti, purchased from Cleveland, and 34-year-old pitcher Dave Hillman, bought from the Cincinnati Reds.

To make room, veteran relief pitcher Clem Labine and catcher Joe Ginsberg were dropped.

Judge To Weigh Arguments In Pro Grid Feud

BALTIMORE (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Roszel C. Thomsen today started tackling the weighty problem of whether the National Football League was powerful enough —and intentionally tried—to kill off a rival.

The judge said it may take two months for him to wade through volumes of testimony, arguments and briefs on a $10-million antitrust suit by the American Football League against the NFL.

Oral arguments ended Thursday. They had been going on intermittently since Feb. 26.

The gist of the AFL claim was that the NFL expanded from 12 to 14 teams only as countermeasures to the new loop in 1960. The NFL granted a franchise to Dallas where the AFL was formed and at the same time announced it would activate another in Minneapolis-St. Paul the next season.

Drake Relays Set For Start Today

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Ex-Marine John Uelses' try to pole-vault back into 16-foot orbit and another major track raid by little Texas Southern were on the agenda as the 53rd Drake Relays got under-way today.

Finals in five individual and three relays events were on the opening program for this two-day cinder carnival in which some 800 athletes from 85 universities and colleges cavort in Drake University's compact bowl.

In the spotlight today was Uelses, who hasn't vaulted 16 feet for a whole month.

Texas Southern, the amazing all-Negro squad from Houston, already has captured five titles in the Texas Relays and six in last weekend's Kansas Relays.

Texas Southern was entered in six Drake baton events.

PERFUME

QUESTION: What is perfume made from?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Modern perfume is made from a great number of different ingredients. First, of course, is the flower. Every flower and fruit has an oil which gives it its special odor. The perfume maker must extract this oil, by boiling, steaming, pressing, squeezing, or any number of different ways. In ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome, this used to be the end of the perfume-making process. Today perfumers go further. The oil is mixed with a synthetic version of the scent. For example, a certain combination of citral and acetone smells almost exactly like violets. A perfumist, then, whips up a great batch of citral and acetone. Then he adds a few drops of natural violet oil. This is put into some amount of alcohol. A few natural ingredients are added to make sure the perfume will not evaporate quickly. Among the ingredients sometimes used is myrrh. Often animal extracts are added so that when a customers puts a drop of perfume behind her ear, the perfume will surround her. These extracts come from a certain type of deer and from whales and beavers. After this mixture is made, it is put into a glass-lined tank to mature. Perfumes are not all made from just one scent. Often many flowers are mixed in varying proportions to give us subtle and lovely scents.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find out what the main scent is in your favorite perfume. The boys are not exempt from this. Hair tonic and soap often contain slight amounts of masculine scents. See if you can find out what plant was used for your favorite scent.

★ ★ ★

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Champion Loser Describes Weight Loss

The real life story of a courageous dieter is always heartening, especially when she has 100 excess pounds to lose. The first report came in the summer of '60.

Ida Jean Kain

"Last summer I tried on a "tent" the store called a bathing suit, size 52, and found it too small yet! I stepped on the scales and the pointer bounced hard against the 250 pound mark. That did it! Out came the calorie chart.

"You'll be pleased to know I've lost 60 pounds and still going strong. I really feel like a crusader and wish I could help others. My 10 year old daughter is so proud of me and my husband is acting like a kid again. I can't tell you how happy I am and how grateful to you for your encouraging column," she concluded.

HER LETTER was gay — no sad song. She was making her slimdown program a part of joyous living. I felt she would triumph. Last summer she reported again:

"On July 4th, we had a party to celebrate my independence from 100 pounds! I feel like a new person. I'm wearing size 18. One hundred pounds seemed almost impossible to lose. Assure your readers that if I could do this, anyone can, for I was just a sucker for chocolate cake and rich food.

"Now I know nothing is better than having energy. I've resumed my nursing career, for R.Ns are scarce. I feel wonderful!"

The heroine of our story is Kay Olson and she lives in Monticello, New York. Readers, this was the dieter I called long-distance to find if she had stayed at her right weight. Let this be a party line, so you can all listen in:

"Are you still size 18 and having the time of your young life?" I asked.

"Yes!" came the joyous answer. "I could never be fat again!"

"Let me see, your starting weight was 250 pounds—?" I continued.

"Well, my scales only go as high as 250. I was 265 on the doctor's scales!"

"How do you feel? Are your feet happy? What are your measurements?" I asked.

"I feel wonderful, and are my feet happy! I wore size 9½D and now wear size 8-AA. I measure bust 38, waist 31, hips 42. I wear size 18 and weigh 160 pounds.

"I can't believe it's me riding a bike, swimming and playing badminton. I will stay my right weight forever," she added happily.

Champion Loser Describes Weight Loss

The real life story of a courageous dieter is always heartening, especially when she has 100 excess pounds to lose. The first report came in the summer of '60.
